quarterly free of charge. For further particulars, address
JNO. P. BARRETT & Co., Publishers,

MOUNT TABOR. BY JORN HAY.

On Tabor's height a glory came, And, shrined in clouds of lambent flame, The awe-struck, hashed disciples saw Christ and the prophets of the law; Moses, whose grand and awful face Of Sinai's thunder bore the trace, Of Sinai's thander bore the trace,
And wise Elias, in his eyes
The shade of Israel's prophecies,
Stood in that vast mysterions light
Than Syrian noons more purely hright,
One on each hand—and high between Shone forth the godtike Nazarene. They bowed their heads in holy fright They bowed their needs in noy fright, No mortal eyes could bear the sight, And when they looked again, hehold! The fiery clonds had hackward rolled, And borne aloft, in grandeur lonely, Nothing was left, "save Jesus only." Resplendent type of things to be! We read its mystery to-day With elearer eyes than even they, The fisher sainls of Galilee. We see the Christ stand out between We see the Christ stand out between
The ancient law and faith serene,
Spirit and letter—but shove
Epirit and letter both was Love.
Led by the hend of Jecoh's Ged
Through wastes of eld a path was trod
By which the savage world could move
Upward through law and faith to love.
And there in Tabor's harmless flame
The acquiring revelation came. The crowning revelation came. The old world knett in homage dne, The prophets near in homage drew, Law ceased its mission to fulfill And Love was lord on Tabor's hill.
So now, while creeds perplex the mind
And wranglings load the weary wind,
When all the air is filled with words
And texts that ring like elashing swords, Stitl, as for refnge, we may turn Where Tabor's shining glories hnrn-The soul of antique Israel gone— And nothing left but Christ alone.

MARIA SAXONBURY.

BY MRS. HENRY WOOD. AUTHOR OF "BAST LVNNE," "TVERNER'S PRIDE, "THE MUSTERY," "THE EARL'S HEIRS,"
"THE CHANNINGS, "A LIFE'S SECRET," &c., &c.

CHAPTER III.

MARIA SAXONBURY.

The golden light of the setting sun was tailing on a golden room. It is scarcely wrong to call it such, for the color prevailing in it was that of gold. Gold-colored satin curtains and cushioned chairs, gilt cornices, mirrors in gilded traines, gilded consoles whose slabs of the richest lapis lazuli shone with costly toye, paintings in rich cuclosures, and golden orna-ments. Altogether the room looked a blaza ot gold. The large window opened upon a wide terrace, on which rose nu ornamen tal fountain, its glittering spray dancing in the sunlight; and beyond that terrace was a fair domain, stretched out lar and wide: the domain of Sir Arthur Saxon-the youngest, the most indulged, and the valuest daughter of Sir Arthur. She was in a white lace evening dress, and wore a I have been studying the Folly all this the a white lace evening dress, and wore a pearl neeltlace and pearl bracelets on her tair neck and arms. They had recently come home after a short London season, which had been half over when they rewhich had been half over when they re and shade of the moonlight." turned from the continent, and were as yet free from visitors. Lady Saxonbury was in ill health, and Mrs. Ashton, the eldest married daughter, was staying with them while her husband was alread

In a chair a little behind Miss Saxonbury, as if conscious of the difference be tween them-for there was a distance-sat free from visitors, but he was scarcely re itude of his heart, had invited him to come amidst a grove of dark trees. and stay a couple of months at Saxonbury; "I do not like the building by day," he of its sweet delusion, and then it was the country air would renovate him; he observed; "but as it looks now, I cannot rudely broken. Mr. Yorke, a relative of and stay a couple of months at Saxonbury; could have the run of the picture-gallery, and copy some of its chefs d'auvre. And Raby came. Sir Arthur's early secret was its zenith." safe with himself, and he could only explain that his interest in Raby Raby was sing artist. So the family, even the sereye, as one who had "come to psint." Raby than this, Mr. Raby. had accepted Sir Arthur's invitation with a glow of gratification—the far-famed the lunds were to come from to make a in the opposite direction. snitable appearance as Sir Arthur Saxoneaid he: "you can repay me with the first proceeds that your pencil shall receive."

Thus Raby weut to Saxonbury. And there had he been now for half his allotted time, drinking in the wondrous beauties of the place and scenery-and other the depths of shade." wondrous beauties which it had been ar well that he had not drunk in. The ele- life has been all brightness.' gance that surrounded him, and to which he had been latterly a stranger—the charms of the society he was thrown turned to the pleasant side again. amongst once again, as an equal for the time being—the gratification of the eye makel" she exclaimed. "I wonder papa and mind, and the pomp and pride of has never had it done. One of your favorcourtly life; all this was but too congenial ite scenes, Mr. Raby, all pociry and moonto the exalted taste of Raby Raby, and he ities of life, to become lost in a false Elys- of depicting melancholy seenes.'

The fault was entirely hers. A great admi- dest sunshine." rer of beauty, like her father, and possessiag a high reverence for genius, the exquisite face of Raby Raby attracted her | ting them. admiration as it had never yet been atsonant to her own mind. His companionsonant to her own initia. It is companion ship soon grew excessively pleasing, and when you stand and admire some favorshe gave her days up to it without restraint, absorbed in the pleasure of the to the weary hours of labor which created moment. Nothing more: of all the people it?" in the world, Maria Saxonbury was the last to think seriously of one beneath ber. So, leaving consequences to take care of must bear within you your own recomthemselves, or be remedied by time, she dwelt only on the present. She would ture-gallery, she would linger by his side ing joyfully on his ear. "The conscious in the gardens, one or the other of the lit- ness of possessing that rare gift, genius, is ion: tn short, it seemed that the object of despondency. Maria's life, just now, was to be with the father and eister had gone out to dinner, she had excused herself: she would stay at home with her mother, she said: but marked by unhappiness," observed Raby Lady Saxonhury was in her chamber, and "In saying 'great men,' I mean men in-Maria remained in the drawing-room with wardly great, men of geniue, of imagina-

THE HARTFORD HERAT

"I COME, THE HERALD OF A NOISY WORLD, THE NEWS OF ALL NATIONS LUMBERING AT MY BACK."

HARTFORD, OHIO COUNTY, KY., JANUARY 13, 1875.

lieved him to be painting then. by her other name, Elizabeth.

VOL. 1.

by her other name, Elizabeth.

"Do you admire this purse?" she suddenly inquired, holding out one of grassgreen silk, with gold beads, tassels, and elides; a marvel of prettiness.

Raby rose and took it from her, and turned it about in his white and slender hands. Those remarkable hands! feeble to look at, elegant in structure, always restless; so strongly characteristic of genius, as well as of delicacy of constitution.

"It is quite a gem," he said, in answer. "You may have it in place of your ugly ne," continued Miss Saxonhury: "that frightful port-monnaie, of grim leather, I saw you with the other day. I made this for somebody clse, who does not seem in a hurry to come tor it: so I will give it to

A rush of suspicious emotion flew to his face, and her eyes fell beneath the eloquent gaze of his. "How shall I thank you?" was all he said. "It shall be to me an everlasting remembrance."

"That's in return for the pietty eketch you gave me yesterday," she went on.—"One you took at Rome, and filled in from

"You mistake, Miss Saxonbury. I said I drew it from description. I have never been to Rome. That is a pleasure to

"As it is for me," observed Maria. "I was there once, when a little girl, but I remember nothing of it. A cross woman, half governess, half maid, who was hired to talk Italian to us, is all my recollection of the place. Last year and the year be-fore, when we were wasting our time in Paris and at the baths of Germany, doing mamina more harm than good, I urged them to go on to Rome, but nobody listened to me. I have an idea that I shall be disappointed whenever I do go: we always are, when we expect so much. "Always. always," inurmured Raby.

"I long to see some of those features I am familiar with from paintings," added Miss Saxonbury. "The remains of the Caear's palaces—the real grand St. Peter's—the beautiful Alban Hills—and all Rome's other glories. I grow impatient cometimes and Miss Saxonbury began to pour it and tell papa there will be nothing left for iae to see: that Sallust's garden will be a heap of stinging nettles-I dare say it is nothing else; and Cecilia Metella's tomh destroyed." And thus they conversed till it greark, and the servants came in to light the handeliers. Miss Saxonbury rememberd her mother theu, and rose to go to her, when Maria returned, the room was rapty, and she stood in the how of the window and looked out. It was the cus-tom at Saxonbury House to leave the cur-tains of this window open on a favorable night; for the moonlight landscape, outside, Swinging her pretty foot to and fro, and leaning back in one of the gay chairs, was solvely girl budding into womanhood, with bright features and a laughing eye, fellow-creatures that Raby Raby was a lovely girl budding into womanhood, with bright features and a laughing eye, fellow-creatures that Raby Raby was a love. To be near her was bliss, even approached the window.

I have been studying the Folly all this race, and he gave her his arm. Did she feel ion. He saw not himself as he was, but the violent beating of his heart, as her as he should be-the glorious painter, to bracelet lay against it? They walked, in | whose genius the whole word would bow. the shade east by the house, to the rail- Surely there was no such impassable barings at the end of the terrace, and there rier between that worshipped painter and Raby Raby. It was said the house was came in view of the fanciful building in the daughter of Sir Arthur Saxonbury. question, "Lady Saxonbury's Folly. garded as such. Sir Arthur, in the plen- rose, high and white, on the opposite hills, suffering himselt to nourish! alns for its

"I do not like the building by day," he fancy anything more classically beautiful in the Eternal City, even when it was in

"It does look beautiful," she mused "And the landscape, as it lies around, is for they had been at Christ Church tobut that which he would take in any ri- equally so: look at its different points show- gether, but he had not recalled him to ing out. You have not seen many scenes memory since, and had never known him vante, looked on him with a patronizing more gratifying to the imaginative eye as the relative of Sir Arthur Saxonbury.

"I shall never see a second Saronhury was the impulsive answer. "Take it for Saxonbury, a rumor, or suspicion, (in the Saxonbary gallery was anticipation all in all, I shall never see—but look at enough for him. He forgot to think where this side," he abruptly broke off, turning bury's guest; but these the painter Corani all dark. I only like the bright side of s guest; but these the painter colour, ately furnished. "It is but a loan," things."

"Has it never struck you that these two "Has it never struck you that these two is a new that the dark of a moonaspects, the light and the dark of a moonlight night, are a type of human fortunes?

While some favored spirits bask in hrightness, others must be cast and remain, in "No. I never thought about it. M

"May it ever remain so!" he whispered with a deep sigh: but Miss Saxonbery

"What a fine painting this view would light, interspersed with a dash of melanwas in danger of forgetting the stern real- choly. Some of you artists are too fond

We depiet scenes as we find them. He was thrown much with Maria Sax- You know the eye sees with its own line. onbury-far more than he need have been. There may be a gaugrene over the glad-

"Artists ought to be always glad: living as they do, amidst ideal beauties: nay, crea-"Ideal! That was a fitting word, Mie-tracted; whilet his eager aspirations, and Saxonbury. We live in the toil and drudlove for the fine arts, were perfectly con- gery of the work; others, who only see the icture when it is completed, in the ideal.

> "No doubt the pursuit of art has its inconveniences, but you great painters pense.'

"In a degree, yes," answered Raby, flit about when he was at work in the pic- the expression "you great painters" echotle Ashtons generally being their compan- ample recompense-save in moments of

"And yet you talk of thelancholy and artist-visitor. Even this night, when her gangrene, Mr. Raby, and such like unpleasant topics!"

"The lives of great men are frequently Mr. Raby. It is probable that Lady Sax-onbury, if she thought of him at all, be-

"I think their fault lay in looking at in remembrance of some one else that Sir the dark side of things, instead of the Arthur had named his joungest child bright," laughed Maria. "Like yourself "Maria?" But they sometimes called her at present. You will keep turning to that gloomy point, where the scenery is all obscure, nothing bright but the great moon itself; and that shines right in your

"They could not look otherwise than they did," he argued, his own tone sounding melaneholy enough.

"Well, well, I suppose it is the fate of genius," returned Maria. "I was reading lately, in a French work, some account of the lite of Leonardo da Vinci. He was uot a happy man."
"He was called Da Vinci, the Uuhappy.

How many of his brethren might have en called so?" "Were I you I should not make up my mind to be one of them; I should be just the contrary," said Maria gayly. "Faney goes a great way in this life. And so," she added, after a pause, "you think some of the queer old temples in Italy must look like that?" pointing to the Folly, "How I wish I could see them!" "How I wish we could see them!" he murmnred-"that we could see them together!" Perhaps he wondered whether he had said too much. She did not check him only turned, and moved back towards the drawing-room, her arm within his.

"We may see them togetber," she said, at length. "You will, of necessity, visit Italy; I, of inclination, and we may neet there. I hope we shall know you in after life, Mr. Raby; but of that there will be little doubt. Everyhody will know you, for you will be one of England's fanous painters."

They reached the window, and he took her hand in his, though there was no necessity, to assist her over the low step; he kept it longer than he need have done. Not for the first time, by several, had he thus elasped it in the little courtesies of life. Oh, Raby Raby! can you not see that it had been much better for you to clasp some poisonous old serpent? He did not enter, but turned away.

Lady Saxonbury was in the room then, in her easy ebair which had its back to the window. The tea was on the table.

out.
"My dear," cried Lady Saxonbury, a simple-hearted, kind woman, "where's that poor painter? I dareeay be would "He was on the terrace just now," re plied Maria. -"Ile must feel very dull," resumed Lady Saxonbury. "I fear, child, we neg-lect him. Send one of the servants to ask im to come in." "The "poor painter," lost in the anticipations of the time when he should be a rich one, was leaning against the railings, whence he had stood and gazed abroad with Mies Saxonbury,—the purse she had given him lying in his bosom. Iu the last few weeks his wbole existence "Does it?" she udded, laughing. "I will which certainly partakes more of heaven stood there is Miss Saxonhury stepped on to the ter- a vision of hope-a deceitful, glowing vis-

Alas for the improbable dream he was fatal ending! Three or four weeks more Sir Arthur's, and the heir presumptive of his estate, arrived at Saxonbury. had been named Artbur Mair, after Sir Arthur. Raby Verner recognized him, He was a tall, strong, handsome young fellow; but ere he had been two days at -but look at agitation of Ruhy's feelings he hardly knew which,) reached the artist that his visit was to Maria, that she was intended 'Ob, I don't care to look there. It is for her cousin's wife. The same evening.

calm and lovely as the one when they had looked forth together at the Folly, the truth became clear to Raby.

They were seated in the drawing-room, all the family, when Maria stepped on to the terrace, and the artist followed her. Presently Artbur Yorke saw them pacing it together, Raby baving given her his Mr. Yorke drewdown the corners of his lips, and stalked out. "Thank you," he said to Raby, with freezing politeness, as be authoritively drew away Maria's arm and placed within his own; "I will take charge of "I wonder papa Miss Saxonbury if she wishes to walk." He strode away with her, and Raby with a drooping head and sinking heart, descended the middle steps of the terrace. He stole along under cover of its high wall-anywhere to hide himself and his outraged feelings. That action, those words of Mr. Yorke's, had but too surely betrayed his interest in Maria. He came o the end of the terrace, and found they had halted there, right above him.

He was to hear worse words now, and he could not help kimself. "Then you had no business to do itgoing to eat me, if I did walk with hrm."
"Excuse me, Maria, I am the best judge. Raby was in the position of a gentleman once, but things have changed with him. "Rubbish!" retorted Miss Saxonbury. you. A gentleman once, a gentleman al-'He is papa's guest; and he is as good as I am not saying he is not a gentleman. But he is no longer in the position of

"He was born and reared one; he will always be one; quite as much as you are," persisted Maria, in her tautalizing spirit. "Well, I don't care then, to put my objection on that score. But it is not agree able to me to see you walking and talking so tamiliarly with him." "Just say you are jealous at once, Arthur. If you think to control me, I can

"Halloo, Arthur! Step here a mo-

The voice was Sir Arthur Saxoubury's, Maria paused in her speech, and M Yorke unwillingly retired townrds the drawin-groom. Raby, in the frenzy of the moment, darted up the end steps, starlling her by his sudden appearance.

"Wies Sarophyry will you appearance."

"Miss Saxonbury! will you answer me? -Forgive me," he panted, as he laid his hand upon her nrm, in his painful engerness-"forgive me that I must usk the questionl Has Arthur Yorke a right to take you from me as he did but now?"

"Of course he has not, Mr. Raby. How can he have?" "I menn-pray excuse me-the right of more than cousinship?'

She was half terrified at his parted lips, his labored breathing, his ghastly face, from which suspense took every ves-tige of color, and she saw that she might not dare to tamper with him; that the kinder course, now, was to set his ambitions dream at rest.

"Well, then," she whispered, "though of course he had not the right to interfere, and it was very bad taste, and I will not submit to his whims, ", yet—the time may come when he will be to me more

His hand unloosed its clasp of her arm, and Maria Saxonbury hastened towards the drawing-room. He watched her in, and then, when no human eye or ear was near, his head sunk upon the cold railings, and a low wail of auguish went forth on the quiet evening air. Too surely, though Maria Saxonbury might never know it, had the iron entered into his soul.

CHAPTER IV.

THE BLOW TELLING HOME. In December, business took Sir Arthur Saxonbury to London. He paid a visit to the artist Coram, but he did not see Ra-His easel and chair were there, but the former had no work in its frame, and the chair was empty.
"Has he ebjured the art, or found another studio?" inquired Sir Arthur. The great painter shook his head. "He has not abjured it. A different art—or power is claiming him now; one to which we niust all succumb—Death."

"Death!" echosd Sir Artiur.

"He has gone off very rapidly; in a decline, or something of that sort. I saw him two days ago, and I did not think, then, he would last until now. I wonder I have not heard of his death."

."What can be the cause of its coming on so suddenly? He was remarkably well when at Saxonbury. I saw no symptom of decline or any other illaess about him then."
"Do you remember my lelling you, Sir

Arthur, that a blow to the leelings would kill him?" Sir Arthur considered. "I think I do."
"He has had it, unless I am mistaken,

He got it at Snxonbury.'
"What do you mean?" inquired the bar-

"I do not understand it,-and indeed it is no business of mine,—but when he came up from Saxonbury, he had certainly re-ceived his death-blow. A suspicion bas crossed me whether your lovely daughter had anything to do with it. Pardon me. Sir Arthur, we are old friends—it is a thought only mentioned to you."

"I should like to see him," said Sir Ar thur. "Will you go with me?" They went. Raby was still alive, but it was getting towards his last day of life He lay panting on his humble bed, nlone. A hectic flush, even then, lighted up bis wasted cheek at sight of her father. Arthur, inexpressibly shocked, sat down by him, and took his poor damp hand.

"What can you have been doing to your self," he asked, "to get into this state?" "I think it was, inherent," murmured "My mother died in a deeline." "You have had the best advice, I hope?" Raby made a movement of dissent.

medical student, whom I know, comes in sometimes. I could not call in good advice, for I had not the means to pay for

"Oh, my boyl" cried Sir Arthur, in a tone of anguish, as he leaned over him, "why did you not let me know of this?-Hall my purse should have been yours, for your mother's sake. "All the skill in England would not have availed me," he earnestly said. "Sir Arthur, it is best as it is, for I am going to years, She told me my lot would not be a happy one. But it will soon be over now. "earthly pain of all kinds has nearly passed away.

Curious thoughts were perplexing Sir Arthur Saxonbury as he quitted the scene. If a rude blow to his feelings had indeed caused Raby to sink into bodily illness and thence to death, and that blow had been dealt by Maria Snxoabury, how very like it was to retribution for the blow Maria Raby had dealt out to him! He was a strong man, and had weathered it, but one that will not come for the bidding; it had left more permanent traces on his and, perhaps; the very fact of Maria's heart than he had suffered the world to having gathered hints that she was desknow. Sir Arthur lost himself in these thoughts, and then shook them off as a disagreeable and unsalisfactory theme."

On Christmas eve he returned to Saxon bury. After dinner, his two daughters only being at table, he told them of the expeeted death of the artist Raby. Mrs. Ashlon expressed sorrow and surprise. -Maria said nothing, but her face drooped, and a burning color overspread it. Sir Arthur looked sternly at her. Her head only drooped the lower.

"It has been hinted to me that you tampered with his feelings," he said, in a severely reproachful tone. "Let me tell you you had no right to do it," Maria was Maria, that the vain hab to fencouraging saying, in a petalent tone. "He was not admiration whence it cannot legally be re-Maria, that the vain hab't of encournging ceived, always tends to ill. rightminded girl would condescend to it."

with young Raby," remerked Mrs. Ash-painter. "She killed him," was the significant answer of Sir Arthur. And Maria Saxonbury burst into tears.

Sir Arthur said no more. He may have inflict such wounds, and of men to bear fault, or whether Maria, in the exercise of coquetry, or vanity, had unwarrantably drawn him on. It booted not to inquire now; the past could not be undone; neith er could Raby be brought back to life .-One thing was indisputable; that beautiful is impossible for some men to be near tacked Mr. Raby suddenly. He was not in their lives.

Maria, vexed and angry with herself for he outburst of feeling, had dried away ier tears as hastily as they came, and was going ou with her dinner with what nppetite she might. Sir Arthur went on with his, glancing at her now and then between his evelashes.

"When did Mr. Raby die?" asked Mrs. Asliton.

"I do not know yet that he is dead," replied Sir Arthur. "He was alive when I quitted London, a week ago; but it was certain he could not last long."
"Did you see him, papa?" continued Mrs. Asliton.

"I saw him several times. I"-"You seemed to be very much interested in that young man, papa," was Mrs. Ashton's interruption.

"I was so," quietly replied Sir Artbur.
"I looked up to him as to one of a superior order. "Superior!" somewhat slightingly re-marked Mrs. Ashton.

"Yes; in my opinion. I bow to genius; I respect misfortune: Raby Raby was rich in both. Had he lived, I should have done something for him: as it is, all I could do was to render his deathbed a little more comfortable than it might otherwise have been."

"Does he suffer much?" "I hope not. The doubt was, that he might towards the last. I invited Mr. Janson to come down for a day or two when all was over, and bring the account of his last hours.

"Who is Mr. Janson, papa?" "A friend of Mr. Raby's. A young sur-geon, who has been much with him in his illness; very kind and attentive to him. —
A gay, gentlemanly, pleasant young fellow as ever I came aeross," somewhat warmly added Sir Arthur.

"Papa, I' think you eviuce a great likng for young men!"
"Possibly I do, Louisa. The having no sons of my own may have induced it. It is not often, though, one meets with so charming a young man as Mr. Janson."

"Is he a gentleman?" "By birth, do you mean? I never asked him the question. He is one in mind and manners, and that is enough for me. You were always over-fastidious, Louisa." Maria, meanwhile, said not a word. After the rebut ndministered by her father, she could but show some sense of it: hough, indeed, her thoughts were too busy to admit of her joining lightly in the conversation. Heartily sorry was she to hear of the death of Raby Knby; and certain qualms of conscience were reproaching her. In the midst of all her vanity and her flirting, her laying her charms out for admiration, and her lingering interviews with Mr. Raby, she had not lost her heart to him. In point of fact, that vulnerable portion of the human frame was yet intact in Maria Saxonbury. But she had liked him much. She had admired his beauty of face; she She had admired his beauty of race; she had reverenced his great gift, genius; she had sat most complacently to listen to his softly breathed words, and their scarcely-ut-guised theme, love. It had been very reprehensible. Maria had conveniently reprehensible foot at the time but she was reprehensible. Maria had conveniently ignored that fact at the time; but she was feeling it deeply now. Putting aside her vauity, her cousciousness of beauty, her love of admiration, she was a noble-hearted girl; and she was wishing just the total absence of rose-color in her self. nearted girl; and she was wishing just that she could recall Raby Raby to life, almost at the sacrifice of her own. That she had wreeked his happiness, she had had some eause to believe; but to have wrecked his life-Maria turned all over in a hot glow, and wondered whether she might yet dare to ask God to forgive her. "Why should some people's nature be so sensitive?" she somewhat peevishly asked herself. "They are not fit to be in the world.' No, they are not. And many a one has had eause to know that truth besides

Maria Saxonbury. She sat in her dainty dress of white, the jewels shining on her fair neek and -sat in her old favorite attitude, after she weut into the drawing-room— leaning back in a fanteuil, her black satin slipper tapping petulantly the carpet. tleman, who frequeated the roof ot that Not so much in petulance, possibly as in sorrow, was that pretty foot moving. Life her. She has been waiting for me all these seemed to her particularly gloomy that in a corner of his azotea during the whole evening; as if it were to have no future. to have spent Christmas at Saxonbury, to different from her former natural, thoughtter, telling of the serious illness of his mother, had come instead. Maria liked they prepared to descend, and never failed Arthur Yorke very well; quite sufficiently well to be grieved at his non-arrival, and to feel it a disappointment. And yet she did not love him. She did not love Arthur Yorke any more than she had loved and soon all the evidences of passion that Mr. Raby. It is a capricious passion, one that will not come for the bidding;

tined to he Mr. Yorke's wife, had kept the love away. Sir Arthur Saxonbury had never said Maria, "All going well, I wish you to be for a stray smile or word from his ladythe wife of Arthur Yorke." Lady Saxonbury had never said it. More than all, Mr. Yorke himself had never eaid it. And yet, that Maria knew that such was making, reaching down to the ground, her projected destiny, was certain. Sir without glass, and only the perpendicular Artbur Saxonbury wished it; there was iron bars, six inches apart, to defend not the slightest doubt that Mr. Yorke them, there is absolutely nothing to prewished it; but neither of them had spoken directly to Mnria. She was very young, and Sir Arthur, who would not for the world linve pushed on such a project against her inclination, had desired Mr. Yorke that he should not speak at present, "Give her time to get a liking tor you first," he said And the advice was "I thought Maria talked a great deal good. But the project had in some way, oozed out; and Maria knew it as well as "Had he been of our own order, I | they did. In fact, there was a tacit uncoquetries to him, as she did to others, secure in her own power.

Lady Saxonbury, a confirmed invalid, suffering under an inward complaint, rethought it was the province of women to clined in a fantenil opposite Maria. Mrs. Ashton, who had always some work in them. He knew not how far Raby's own | hand for one or the other of ber children, impressionable nature might have been in | sat at the table between them, doing something to the lace of a little cap, and grumhaving allowed it to get torn.

NO. 2.

beauty and not suffer from it once ill when he was here."

"Very suddenly," returned Mrs. Asheir lives. ton, in a marked ione, made tart for the sounded on the gravel, and the hall bell was now ringing. But no one appeared, and the occurrence passed of from their The time went on to ten time, and the tea waited on the table for Sir Arthur. Never given to take nuch wine, Lady Saxoubury openly wondered what could be keeping him in the dining-room.

"It is possible that, tired with his journey, he may have dropped asleep," she suddenly said. "Go and see Mrria." Maria rose listlessly, and proceeded to the diving-room speaking as she entered

"Papa, you don't come to tea. We have Arthur was a gentleman, a stranger to Maria. He rose as she spoke, and stood facing her, a beauing smile on his countenance. A gentlemanly-looking man, young, with a remarkably winning expression of face and frank manners. Sir pression of face, and frank manners. Sir Arthur rose also. "My daughter, Mr. Janson, Miss Sax

Maria remembered the name Janson in connection with Raby Raby; and not possessing a perfectly easy conscience on that score altogether, left the room again as quickly as she could. Sir Arthur followed her, bringing his guest to the draw-

Rahy had died the day following the departure of Sir Arthur Saxonbury from London. He, Sir Arthur, had paid a visit of nearly a week on the road. Mr. Janson waited to bury his friend, and then availed himself of the invitation to Saxonbury, "Did he die hard-in much pain?" in quired Lady Saxonbury, when they had been speaking of him some little

"Quite easy in all ways," replied Mr. "He appeared to think he was going to his rest,"

[Continued next week.]

LOVE-MAKING IN CUBA.

Very Pretty Picture of the Pro-

Havana Letter to Chicago Tribnne. Last summer two sisters, who lived imevery evening at sunset. They were about 18 and 15 years of age, and both very pretty. The eldest, Lola, was a black-eyed, raven-haired beauty, with the great men of earth are madel.

The years rolled on, and onr model the well-grown, well-developed form so common minong Cuhan women and so Panchita, was more delicate in make, with flowing sheetnut hair and blue eyes —the blue of the pervenche—and a com
the blue of the pervenche—and a comdile, and vicious of the neighborhood.—

cheek, make her a type of blonde beauty unknown to Northern climes. The original, I believe, is to found in Andslusia, to enjoy the religion of our Lord Jesus

The pretty sisters used to pace the azotea with a nonchalent grace which it was tercation, and the worthless son of a worenchanting to watch; Lola, with a cigar thy widow stabbed and killed his adverin her mouth, puffing vigorously; both sary, nodding and making signs with fingers He was arrested, tried, and convicted; and hands to the young people, also and to-day is serving out a lengthy term smoking, on the roofs around. Sometimes in the State-prison. The disgrace brought Panchita would indulge in a paper ci- upon the honorable name horne by her garito, and it was very pretty to see the dead husband, the father of this felon, dainty fingers hold it a moment to the killed the mother. The shame and dis-

up round the delicate little nosel A week or two passed thus in a few simple and it is the neighborhood gossip and be-salutations and a pretense of taking exercise, when I discovered that a young gen-

three-storied house on the right, REMAINED SUSPICIO: SLY STATIONARY to cast a parting look in the direction of town dens of evil that will make drunk-the stationary young man. At last I ards, devils, and murderers of our fathers, surprised signals with fan and fingers. a tall individual on a house-top, with his silhouette distinctly drawn against the sky, can dare to give. And then, when Panchita was fairly out of sight, Pepe descended also, and, half an hour later, would be found in the street posted ontside her parlor window, waiting patiently are constructed in this country tor lovevent the tenderest conversation the gallant on the side wall; and the helle inside the grating, or reja, as it is called.

It is, then, outside this reja, that the Cuban lover begins his courtship, and

Alma de mi viva" (soal of my life). Cueullo de mi corazon" (firefly heart), etc .- to the willing, eveluanted ears within. After a period of out-door love-making, longer or shorter according how long a time he intends to pay his ad- beautiful fire in full blast. gracious leave is given to come every evening. From that hour the young as Maria Raby had been in the old days, Saxonbury. "What a sad thing that Such was the course of Pepe's and Punbengtiful was Maria Saxonbury now. It consumption is But it must have at chita's loves; at the end of three months book

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy, one year..... I wenty copies, one year...... 30 00

An additional copy, free of charge, to the celler-up of a club of ten or twenty.

As we are compelled by law to pay postage a advance an pap rs sent outside of Ohio outly, we are forced to r quire payment on wheelers in the contract of the country.

ubscriptions in advance.
All papers will be promptly stopped at the approximation of the time subscribed f r. Ali letters on business must be addressed to .. J.vo. P. Barrett & Co., Publishers,

THE WEDDING TOOK PLACE.

nlthough they were in truth but children, he not 19 she just 15. One evening at 8 benefit of Maria.

"He never looked strong," resumed Lady Saxonhury. "He had a remarkably fragile appearance. I used to say so and meaning and a crowd of triends, set. to Maria. Who can that be?"

The "Who can that be?" referred to the signs of nn arrival. Wheels had creature I ever gazed on; and there was music, and dancing and feasting, and laughter, all night long in the brilliant house. Alast a year later, all was darkness and tears within that same housel A bahe had been born who had died of lockjaw when six days old-one-half of the newly born children of Cuba lall victims to this terrible malady—and the young mother lived but a week after its burial, carried off by a galloping con-sumption, a complaint extremely common in the island—I may say frightfully so. But see, while I have been telling you this episo le of the azotea with its melanchely termination, the sun has sunk be-low the horizon. How soft and tender is this twilight! There linger still some heen wondering"—

And there she slopped. Seated by Sir golden streaks of the verge on the horizon,

For the Hartford Herald. A PICTURE FROM LIFE.

BY EDITH.

A young man just entering upon life.
"The only son of his mother, and she was a widow." He had sisters, fair and gentle girls, who labored hard with the needle to earn a comfortable support for their old mother and themselves.

And this young man—did he not labor, also, for the same laudable purpose? Was it not his ambition to lessen the load of his sisters, and "by the sweat of his brow" make his mother's jonrney down the hill of life pleasant and peaceful?

Alas! no. He thought it was degrading to work. He did not scruple to wear clothing earned for him by the industrions hands of his sisters. He saw the graver of care tracing wrinkle npon wrinkle, day after day, on the once smooth brow of his mother. He knew that he was filling her loving heart to overflowing with sorrow. He saw that his sisters were growing pale and sad-eyed from the shame he brought npon them. But this young man did have an ambi-tion. He loved to boast of his drunken folies and scrapes. And, ohl how he delighted to go home under the influence of liquor and curse and bully the poor defencemediately opposite—there in that low less women, whose greatest misfortune bouse—used to come to the terrace nearly was that they were his mother and sisters.

young man grew older, but no better.
All of the hours of the day, and many

One night, in a den of drnnkenness, kept by-God forgive him!-one who professed whence came, also, the fairy-like feet which distinguish Cubans generally.

Christ, minder was done. Our model young man and one of his fellow-loafers, young man and one of his fellow-loafers. while drank, became involved in an al-

coral lips, and then the light snoke curl grace brought upon them by their brother, drove the sisters from the neighborhood in the city of Evansville. Reader, this is no fancy sketch. These things really occurred, and in a community not more than a hundred miles from Hartford. Let us be thankful that our time the sisters remained on theirs. Soon own community contains no such model I was certain that Panchita smoked her young men. And ohl men of Hartford: py one. But it will soon be over For one thing, she had been vexed by he added, his voice growing fainter; the non-arrival of Arthur Yorke. He was certain that Panchita smoked her good, christian, civilized men of Hartford; the non-arrival of Arthur Yorke. He was continue-in the name and for the sake of have been with them that day, but a let- less grace: then it was evident that she voor mothers, wives, sisters and danghters -continue to refuse wicked and moneyloving men the privilege of opening in onr > hasbands, brothers, and sonsl HARTFORD, Ky., January I, 1874.

A Kitchen Fire Started with $1,-100 in Greenbacks.

Milwankee News, Dec. 25th.

II. Grote keeps a saloon and boarding house at 193 Second street, and, to all appearances, is doing a good and prospero usiness. He is a thritty individual, and You see how convenient the windows is given to operating somewhat in stockorses. He doesn't keep, as a usual thing, a vast amount of money about the house. Day before vesterday, having a note against him that was rapidly approaching maturity, he obtained something over $1,100 with which to satisfy it. Wrapping up this comfortable sum in an old newspaper, he stowed the away in a Unrean drawer, and where he intended to let it renmin until it was wanted to liquidate the claim against him. named 'Melia Merclinek, a bright little lass, about nine years of age. A part of tutinal fire, and yesterday morning, as should have interfered; but I knew she derstanding that she did, between herself to the ardor and sincerity of the wooer, nsunl, she was the first one stirring in the could not he serious. He was only a and Mr. Yorke. At present she was the requests to see papa or mamma, and house. Not having enough inflamable pleased to show off her caprices and her begs their permission to be allowed to material handy, she remembered the roll continue his courtship in-doors. If he is of paper in the drawer, and getting it out considered a suitable match, he is asked put it in the store, where she soon had a dresses before he determines or is able to master of the establishment arose he If his term be too long, he will missed the money, and a little inquiry probably not be permitted to visit at the demonstrated the that that $1,100 bouse; but, if all is right and smooth, had gone "where," in the elegant language of the late lamented James Fisk, Jr., "the woodline twineth." bling at her unconscious nursemaids for lady's society belongs exclusively to him; of the atmosphere in that boarding-house "Haveyon he and she sit side by side in the parlor, can be better imagined than describedheard the news about Mr. Raby, mammaispering and giggling together—intersection objects to those who does them; whispering and giggling together—intersection objects to those who does them; but as it had been under good leadway great bores to those who do not. Such was the course of Pepe's and Pnn- empty of money as a reporter's prelict-

THE HERALD.

WALLACE GRUELLE, Epiron HARTFORD, OHIO COUNTY, KY

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1875

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Wednesday, Jan. 6. Three jarors were bagged yesterany in the Iton Beecher case. Another Cuban expedition is reported to be fiting out in New York. The annual sale of pows in Plymouth Church (Beocher's bagaio) last night, realized $70,000. An explosion of fire damp is n coal mine at Rotherham, England, yesterday, killed nincty

The barber at St. Louis froze solid last eight an negrees below zero at transha yesterd ty Two saddlers lost their lives in the barring of the barracks at Ft. Russelt, Wyoming Territo ry, Suaday night. ry, Sanday hight.

A married man named Wring, who lives a Breese, Ill., shot and mortally wounded a Mrs Broenser, at St. Lonis, tast night, because the

"fosed to desert her husband and clope with O. O. Carr, a St. Louis railroad clek, ki'led himself with morphine, last night, to end a dranken sprec. All the business portion of Orangeburg, S. C., was destroyed by hire yesterday morning. The Democrats of New Hampshire yesterday nominated Hon. A. II. Hatch for Governor.

The residence of Newton Enggles, at Put-in Bay, Ohio, was berned last night, and his mother, sister and her child were burned to death.

W. S. Kelly, aged 68, was caught in the ma chinery of a flouring mill at Gallatin, Tenn., yesterday, and tomall to pieces. J. N. Cohen,a Nashville pedler who has been missing for some time, is supposed to have been mardered somewhere in Robertson county,

Dr. C. B. Adams, of Angusta, Ga., was drowned al Graniteville a few nights since. While waiting there for a train to move he unintention ally walked into the canal.

At Italias, Texas, about midnight of the 31st of December, Maj. J. P. Horhach, of Memphis and Mr. H. K. Thomas, the agent of the Texas and Pacific railway, two friends, were drinking together and had been playing some game. Both gentlemen were under the influence of liquer. A difficulty ensued, in which llorbae uer. A difficulty ensued, in which Horbach shot Thomas through the head, the ball entering just above one of bis eyes. Horbach was crested and lodged in fail.

Thursday, Jan. 7. Eight jurors bave been secured in the Tilton commercial and non-politica world of New Orleans, including all the elergy unite in prononneing Gen. Sheridan's charge

mously false.

The bark Assumecen, from Pensacela, Fla., for London, was lost at sea, and several of the erew drowned. Ex-governor R. B. Lindsav, of Alabama, ne a resident of Denver. Colorado. The old sell about straightening the negro's hair has been revived, and parties are now engaged in certain localities in Texas in selling some vilu decoction that takes all the hair of and leaves the head barefooted.

Two white boys on the Gadberry place, near Yazoo, Miss., about Iwelve years old, gol into a fight last Saturday. Their names are Boyd Johnson and —— Green. Young Green atabbed Johnson with a knife and killed him instantly.

Two youths from Selma, Alabama, named Cherles Street and Frank Roach, were arrested Cherles Street and Frank Rosen, were arrested diately alracked by the order and Columbus, Ga., the other night, on the weapon used on his wife. She died shortly efcharge of robbing their employers in the for-ler, but the wife recovered from her wounds and for New York "to see the world." wers recovered.

Joe l'arker, a noted desperado, well known in northern and western Texas, was killed yesterday by the deputy sheriff of Hunt county. The deputy called ou l'arker to surreuner. Parker fired liemediately, the hall grazing the deputy's head. The latter returned the fire riddling Parker's head with huckshot, killing him instanty.

A private dispatch just received at Menyalis being fried for that offense, was permitted by him instantly.

A private dispatch just received at Memphis A private dispatch just received at Memphis says a party of citizeus who were scarching Lee county, Mississippi, for the murderers of the Borum family bavearrested four negros, one of whom confessed to the crime, and said there were six negroes concerned in the trage.

Miss GerIrude Pillow, danghter of General Gideon Pillow, of Memphis, shot a bear near wife and the negro boy, and then fired the house in a half dozen places, burning alive the two children, and locking the door to prevent

M. L. Murray, agent of the Singer Sewing Machine Company in Macon, Ga., committed suicide at the Brown House Thursday night by taking landsnum

Friday, Jan. 8.

One thousand troops sailed from Cadiz; Spain, last Sunday for Cubs. The requisite number of jurors in the Tilton-Beecher case were obtained yesterday. Dranken Zach Chandler has been renomina-

Hanibal Hamlin has been renominated for S. Senate by the Republican caucus of the Maine Legislature.

A negro woman in Pilt county. N. C., recently gave hirth to triplets, the first was white, the second mulatto, and the third black as a tar-A little darky in Rome, Ga., stole a cake from

Mr. Harvey Groner, who lived neer Southpoint, Gaston connty, N. C., committed suicide a few days ago by hanging. There accens to have been no cause assigned by his friends why he should have committed the fatal deed. Mr. Groner was about forty years old. He was a married man, and left two or three children. A colored man named Lucas shot another named Lawyer Weaver Sunday morning early, near Benniek's Mills, Ga., on the Central rail-road, about sixteen miles from Augusta. It is said Weaver had been living with Lucus' wife eently a trotting colt for $1 for the just few weeks, and that he was will her in bis room when Lucas put a gun through name to Farmer's Scutinel.

a window and shot bim, killing him instantly It has now been ascertained from a reliable source that Cohen, the missing Polish ped'er from Nasbville, was robbed, murdered and his buried near Russellville, Ky., by the conaty authoritles. His horse and wagon were sold by order of the county court, which will I nited States Scantor, to succeed Ilon. John appoint an administrator of his effects. His W. Stevenson. papers, accounts, cte., were all found on his body, but the money and valuables were miss- in Covington, ky., on the 27th of last July, was Saturday, Jan. 9.

Hugh McDauiel, a steamhoal captain, was murdered at l'oinl l'leasant, W. Va., last Wed-nesday, by Wm Weitzel. McDaniel had been eriminally intimate with Weitzel's wife,

A sad accident occurred near Blackjack, Witson county, Tenu., Saturday, during Christmas, which resulted in the death of Mr of Kentucky. Mr. Burr and Mr. J. W. (Bees] Barbee were out hunting, and seeing a squir rel run into a hole thought to run him out, and for that purpose Mr. Barbes knocked against the tree with the hatt-end of his gun, which caused it to fire, the whole charge of shot entering the breast of the unfortenate Burr, causing death. The parties were brothers-in-

The negroes to the vicininity of Citronelle, Ata., have adopted a new made to prevent steading and other species of crime among their cleased. A few days ago two or three of the area of them were suspected of steading and they were caught lighter than and they were on going to see which it was, was fired mon. caught, fied to a free, and after being compelled to acknowledge the stealing, they were severely whinped by the leading negroes. Here are plain cases of istimidation and food for the "investigating committee."

gone law out of Hanti te he go applied a consolid Cartifact. In inersity at hebanan, 1842

liquit was be ruch; of were, middle is we been, very last of largest that he was satisfied be she ling was ned touth.

Melle Caur, e) Lurionte viffe, Va., are to no waa" don'n in this tennaem tu tor'ny nigha sterratarnel to ber fathen'n ara par'y, and rock a loade to retire to her she ere to I the passage it just o amp loosy to be and our liping by nothings. For ories brought her mather and sester relace ssistance, both of whom were sever by buried ademyting to put out the accident not until clothing was burned was the fire extin-shed. She died of her injuries at 11 of lock unday morning. Miss Carter was only about ight on years of ege, in the talk biocut of wa-ranhood, and was an intelligent, and avaiable

Mamilion, Sam. 11. D in Voorhees is no longer a candidate for the ediana Senatorship Coal mining has almost entirely suspended Horace II. Gibbs, n Cincinnati railroad man the recently lost his wife, committed streide on her grave Friday night.

The cold snap Saturday did some devilment

Jane Anderson, aged 68, was frozen to death et Cincinnati; John Hogan met with a similar fato at Chleage; and a sebool-girl at Omeba was so barly frozen that she died.

It is reported at Washington that Secretary

Louisiana. Vasquez, the notorious California bandit, has been convicted of a score of murders and roheries charged egains! him, and will be sen-moved on the 23rd met. King Alfanso will enter Medrid to morrow.

The Western Hotel, at Sacremento, Cal., was The Western Hotol, at Sacromento, Carl, was burned yesterday afternoon. Three men are known to have perished in the flames, end others ere supposed to be huried in the ruins. Frank Royers, while drunk, was frozen to death at Brenham, Texas, a few nights ago. Primus Wilson killed his wife in Liberty county, Ga., last week, by tripping her up and placing his knees on her. He is ninety years and all the inmates-five in numthe ground her—an old man, a young woman, onl three children, were hurned to death. In Surry coun-A few days ego Mr. W. T. Jones, living on Buffalo, in Wilkinson county, Miss., found one of his hogs near his residence hadly bitten hy found with the top of his head shot off. Three negroes charged with the crime have been urrested and are now in jail at Woodville.

The murderer of Miss Emma Vocker, and the attempted slayer of his own wife, in New Braunfels, Texas, some months ago, has been arrested, and confessed to having committed the deed. The name of the fiend is William Faest. The wife of this man, a young girl but recently married, had taken refuge with the Volker family during the absence of her husband, stating that she was nfraid to remain at her home during the night, but giving no reasons therefor. The young wife, having retired one night, occupying the same apartment with the young lady to brutally murdered, was set npon by the fiend, who was reported obsent from the neighborhood at the time, and dreadfully incerated with a hatchet. Miss Vecker awake at the noise occasioned, and was image-diately altacked by the brule with the same in still alire.

Tuesday, Jan. 12. Among the fortunate ones-candidates he-fore the Tennessee Legislature was Miss Emily Peyton, daughter of Ilon. Balie Peyton, who was elected engrossing clerk of the senate there were six negroes concerned in the trage-dy: that they first shot and killed Borum, his young lady was attended by a youth named Charles Mitchell, brother of Captain John II. Mitchell. Bruin received two loads from a double-barreled shot-gun, and, turning over with a sigh, somewhat akin to a growl, quietly breathed his last. He was of very large size, and the steaks were juicy and nice.

On Wednesday evening a terrible accident occurred from the reckless use of fire-arms, resulting in the death of Miss Mellic Jones, of Milan, Tennessee. Her brother William, on coming into the house the same morning, took a derringer pistol from his pocket, and, in presence of his sisters, Mollio and Fannic, drew the charge from the pistol and retired to ted for the U.S. Senate by the Republicans in the Michigan Legislature. cured some percussion caps and commenced snapping them with the weepon. After some time a younger prother came in, and seeing the pistol proceeded to load it with ball and extridge with the expectation of riding out some short distance after night full. He inad-vertantly left the loaded pistol on a bureau in no of the rooms of the house, and the young ladics, seeing the weapon apparently in the same condition as they had left it while amus-A fille darky in Kome, ora, store acception ladies, seeing the weapon apparency in the bls grandmother, and when she stripped him for a whipping he ran away. He was found frozen to death next morning.

Mr. Charles Albiechl, of Columbia, S. C., Fannie Jones, therefore, all unconscious, picked Fannie Jones, therefore, all unconscious, picked Mr. Charles Albicell, of Columbia, S. C., while laboring under a fit of temporary aberration yesterday afternoon, shot himself in the head with Colt's navy pistol—a portion of the brain being earried away. He lingered until about 12 o'clock last night, and then died.—
He leaves a wife but no children.

Mr. Harvey Groner, who lived near South.

KENTUCKY NEWS.

Shelbyville is now lighted by gas. The Bowling Green Republican has changed

s name to the Bowling Green Globe. Jumes Monroe, a horse-trainer, fell into a ereck at Loxington, Sunday, while drunk and was drowned. James Miller of Harrison county, sold re-ently a trotting colt for $11,000. The Paducah Tolacco Plant has changed its

The Harrodsburg People is heresfter to be called the Observer and Reporter. The Lebanon Standard says that the late Judge Hard n had his life iesured for $10,000.

the 7th instaut.

On Christmas night, just after dark, three prisoners confined in the Owen's a fail made their escape. Two of the men were charged with horse stenling, the other with carrying concealed deedly wenpons. The publication of the Tri-Weekly Maysville Eagle has been discontinued. Mr. Green will continue the publication of the Weekly Hagle. The negro girl shot by Knklux near Clay her strong h, though the vision of the jujured ye is still defective on going to see what it was, was fired upon.

as a candidate for Atterney to neval, subject to the action of the Demobrate State Convention in May.

Col. Jire. D. Lilland, of Gwan, is announced of tun and west down to his cabin, and, Tenn, has accepted a call from the Cambernot tenting lost tearner of his gon, fired and Preshyterian church at Bowling tircon, only, as lessing tol. He therefored llunt's The jail at Burlington, Boone county, a oth, as be support. He thereopened Hunt's The jail at Burlington, Boone county or and proched at line with his gun, one brick building greeted in 1851, was destre

1.4 in ' no live d's targed, odging by fire on Monday night, It was set ou li e by of l'e he, ethou 's side, he in the effects an insane prisoner named Thomas Kirkpatric. Robertson county bou-ts of a goose twen'ythes years old, which raised twelve gostings this last spring, while her owner has made seven the principles are to be sacrificed outlarge pillows from the feathers plucked from for the sake of victory; when immoral, her gooseship. A child was born last week in Nelson county in the neighborhood of Bloomfield, to a Mrs. Guthrie, without arms, having well-fermed thanks protruding from each shoulder, and with its mouth located on the right side of the fare, below the jaw-bone. Widten flickson, near Beech Grove Church orty, was hanling with an ex-terna, pull, he piled a load of feel for upo irnt him alive. A similar fate

tain Courch in Mason county, cloped with young lady trom Harrison county, and was married to her at Aherdeen, Ohio. The bride's father is said to be a Bourbon county larmer of wealth, and has strong prejudices and pos-itive character; and it is said he has declaire his intention to disinherit his daughter.

A son of Mr. Pat Quinn, of Mason county while hunting on Wednesday of last week, accidentally shot by his brother, and killed in The hoy killed was walking in the rear of his brother, who hed the gun on hi shoulder. The gun by some occident was dis-cherged, the little fellow receiving the entire charge in his head.

ent hut straightening himself up said: "Mass I'au 'posed to sweariu,' but name if taint so.'

A drove of the deep and the conder, and he had order, and helonging to Hon. Geo. W. Craddock, of Frenkfort, has been missing since Monday, December 28. It is supposed that they have either been butchered for the home they have either been burenered for the home and and unrelenting enemy of our party county, Ga., last week, by tripping her up and placing his knees on her. He is ninety years disjunior.

Last Thursday night shoul 10 clock the house of Franky Elis, colored, was burned to house of Franky Elis, colored, was burned to have been expelled from this lodge, and the published. me ordered to be published.

The Grangers of the Eighth District, have instructed their Representative, 11on. M. J. the circs of inflation. We'll have more Durham, to insist upon the following points: First-Wo demand that the 5-20 honds bo of this. We would just as soon call paid in greenbacks. Second-That the gun he went to look into the matter, and this was the last seen of him alive. His hedy was found with the ton of his head shat of. The State and United States.

An unknown man was found dead near llnason, Hopkins county, last Menday, The circumstances attending his evalt are unand it burned in two and fell on him. He was thought to be a tramp. There was nothing and a victory won before they discover about him to give the fainlest clew to his inentity.

A suspicious-looking stranger, giving his name as Louis Ross, was arrested in Shelbywille the other day as a suspected burglar, but nothing being found egainst him, except that he had the alius of Robt. Noyes, he was released. He has since brought suit in the sum of $10,000 for damages done his character against the judge, arresting officers, prosecuting attorney and jailer, leaving his interests in the hands of his attorney.

Dr. H. A. M. Henderson, Superintendent of Public Instruction, has been invited by the National Superintendents' Association to address that body at its annual convention, in Washington City, January 28. He also goes to Nashville to address the State Teachers' to wante We have tried the data of the state Teachers' Nashvilla for the begunt of the WURSH'S MIS

two pounds of pewder, and an explosion fol-lowed. Of the five persons who were in the room at the time, four were badly burned. Miss Josie Benhom received injuries of so se Mr. Boblett was very severely burned but will recover. An infant child of Mrs. Boblett, ecurronce, escaped unhurt. The case of these Lexington city officers. orineipally members of the City Council, which was brought before the Federal Court of Louille some time ago, and was taken thence to Supreme Court of the United States at Washington, was set for trial in that court on the 6th instant. It has been postpo ever, to the 12th or 14th. Hon. B. ner, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, em loyed as connect by the city, is in Washi m attending to the case, tegether with Hon.

Mr. Smusberry. WE are of the opinion that our old friend, Judge McManama, knows a little more law than is healthy for the peals. It looks as if he labors under the impression that he has been awarded the contract for performing all the work which properly falls to the share of Appellate Judges. When the notion takes him, he pounces on a decision tional than CROCKETT SAYERS does about pulling the beam at three hundred pounds. We pray Mc., to stay his rash, innovating haud. The Court Col. Oscar Turner will be a candidate for of Appeals and the State constitution are relies that have so far bid defiance to the corroding tooth of time, and we enced to the penitentiary for 21 years, on would be grieved to see them stricken In the Fatuoutb Police Court the other day a quarrel arose between the judge and the marchal, in which pistels were drawn but no diciary.

The deciands of the lecture field upon the time of Bro. Gro. W. BAIN eing so great, he has been compelled to surrender the editorial charge of the Hage about two months ago, has recovered Tr. Bro, Thompson has a head full of mention the fact. brains, is an earnest, foreible and logireformation.

A MAN in Giles county, Tennessee.

OUR POLITICAL CREED.

We are not of the latter-day, newlight Democracy. With us principles are principles, and expediency as valueless as the dust beneath our feet. drunken and otherwise objectionable men are to be selected for places of profit and trust, and men of character, standing and ability are shoved aside, because of the supposed or actual popuand-lob-tails; when whisky and money be used in such warfare. With us, soul from the contamination of infidelity. That is the reason why we disdain datements before they would be received as wildence. The old darkoy hesitated for a moare not to Strusted. They are all camp and taken their "chief among ten thousand," their SAUL, the life-long The Inviorsylle Lodge, P. and A. M. issues the following: This notice is to inform the public that V. E. Anderson, formerly number of this late. In the public that V. E. Anderson, formerly number of this late. adroitly seeking to indoctrinate us with ourself a Republican, and advocate Reon to the name of Democrat and advoeate principles and support candidates known, but it is supposed ho set tire to an dd adopted for the nonce, and used in the area, and lying down by the fire went to sleep, but the true and fall on him. hope that the enemy may be decieved the ruse—use them as hunters use wooden ducks to decoy the real fowl. We believe in the principles taught by JEFFERSON and MADISON and MON-ROE, and practiced by JACKSON. They embrace the true theory of republican democracy. They are as immutable as the laws of nature. They are worth living for and dying by. Ever since the moment the Democracy began to o Anshville to address the State Teachers' to wane. We have tried the dodge of expediency often enough and long January 21, upon which occasion the Legisla-lure will be in attendance. On the evening of the 23d be delivers one of his lectures in enough. We have suffered by our folly as much as we ought to suffer. We cannot afford to continue a losing fit ourselves for the inheritance of eter-Peech Fork, Washington county, on the 23d of December, a peculiar and fatal accident occurred. One of the young men while smokwe do return to them let's have as little as possible to say about "Demoeratic principles." Such talk, the way ous a nature that she died on Saturday last. things are going, is worse than mockery. It is as if BRUTUS, with his foot which she held in her arms at the time of the upon the bleeding body of Casar, were to pronounce an eulogy upon the virtues of the man he had just murdered. Whatever we he, O Democrats, let us not become hypocrites as well as traitorsto our principles. GEN. GORDON'S advice to the people of Louisiana is good. The Administration is endeavoring to good them into armed resistance to its odions tyranny. A dignified submission to the wrongs it is heaping upon them will prove a defeat more sore to the President and continued existence of the Court of Ap- his co-conspirators against the political life of a sovereign State, than would fifty reverses on the foughten field. Their hope is to bring about an armed conflict, and then, under the ery of a of the Court of Appeals, like a jay-bird being estranged from them-again on the business began prior to the day on a June-bug, and reverses it before their side, and thus perpetuate them- when the telegraph became the servoue can say "Jack Robinson." And selves in power. This is their game. he makes no more ado about declaring This alone they are striving for. constitutional provision unconstitu- Quiet submission to any and every lie demands, and our only ambition is it. Let there be no resistance.

Madison county is putting on airs per. because it contains the remains of Boonesborough, Boone's Gap, and rock on which is carved the initials D. B." About a mile from the town of Sharp-burg, in Eath county, on the south bank of Stoner creek, there stood -and may stand yet-an old beeck tree, on which the name of Dauiel Boone-he spelled it "Boon"-was carved nearly a immlred years ago, by Temperance Advocate to Bro. N. F. the great hunter's own hand, and Bath Thompson, the efficient G. W. S. and doesn't think enough of the reliet to > the people of Louisiana, and Generals SHERIDAN and DE THOBREAND have been fitly selected to carry out the in the orthrof Radicalism.

OUR SPIRITUAL NEEDS.

What the world wants is not a new religion but a return to the old refigionthe one our Savious preached and died salvation to the peoples—the one that has been abandoned of men almost ince the moment of the foul and cruel

our political faith is a religion, and dental instead of an essential of our they earn their chaplets so easily. we will alway: endeavor to guard it modern religions. What does a dying from impurity as we guard the faith soul care for sprinkling or immersion upon which rests the salvation of our or pouring, for infant baptism, for works and faith, for creeds and disciplines or catechisms, for sectarian names Fish has tendered and the President accepted his resignation, in cosequence of a disagreement about the high-handed Federal cuttages in Louisiana.

We are not a scoffer at and despiser expediency people. They have gone of the religions of the world. There A drove of 28 Custwold sheep, all in fine into the very heart of the enemy's is much good in alf of them; and also much of evil. They befog and bewilder, by their eternal clashing of doctrines, where they should all be lighthouses to guide to havens of safety. We never knew of a protracted debate the doctrinal difference between their respective churches, that did not work devilish evil in the community, where it occurred. Both sides would claim of this. We would just as soon call the victory. The adherents of the several debaters would zealously stand by their champion, estrangements and quarrels and heart-burnings would spring up between friends and neighbors, and we have known even the members of the same family divided among themselves. The victory in all such contests really belongs to the Devil. CHRIST blazed the path to heaven, and he made it narrow. Dectrinaires have endeavored to macadamise the road, have widened it out, until it actually requires a chart and compass to travel it with safety. There would be no such danger were we to follow implieitly the lights of the Gospel of Just's. Love of GoD and our fellow-man, repentance of our sins, the precepts of what we call the "Golden Rule," and the teachings of the Sermon on the Mount, are all the guides we need They contain all of the doctrines and divine law that we want. If we square our lives in this world by them, we will ligions, and Cimist's Gospel substitu ted, or we will all give SATAN as much work as he can stand up under some OUR PAPER.

There is no good reason why a readable newspaper cannot be gotten up as well in a country village as in a city, while there are many good reasons in favor of the project. If the editor s lazy or incompetent, then it will be impossible for him to get up a paper worthy of support anywhere. We do not claim for ourself any particular ad- see. If Sheridan was ever guilty of opinion that Queen Isabella was "no hetvantage over our conferes of the countain exploit, brilliant, or even moderate-ter than she should be." try press. We only claim that we ly so, during the war, it has entirely were bred to the business of newspaper escaped the eyes of impartial histo- which we love to record as evidence that making. We have filled every posi- rians. tion on a paper, from that of "devil" in a country office, through the various grades of compositor, pressuau, mailing-clerk; associate editor, and edirevival of the rebellion, enlist the sec- tor-in-chief of several prominent and tional sympathies of the North-now leading dailies. Our experience at ant and news-bearer of the press. We think we know what the reading pubby the people of Louisiana will defeat offer the people of Ohio county The to decide whether they want our pa-

to the edge of town, and fight it out on that line. As they know exactly where dent gets drunk he will comply with make the quarrel up, shake hands, walk arm-in-arm to the nearest doggery and take a drink, dress each others wounds, and ever after enjoy the reputation of being two of the gamest men between the sulphur factory and the who fooled the faculty of a famous medito their party and profit to the State ical episodes as this, frequently occurring Ed. East, of Tate county. Miss usede an arrangement to have an egg negg, and one of literation as that of the Federal sollie through the general process of the first time in the aromatic and sunny southland, and nation. They are large-hearted, like through the first time in the aromatic and sunny southland, and nation. They are large-hearted, like through the first time in the aromatic and sunny southland, and nation. They are large-hearted, like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day, and he through the federal sollies like the other day are large-hearted, and selected the day are large-hearted, and selected the like the other day are large-hearted, and selected the like the other day are large-hearted, and selected the like the selected th leed to come up before day and wake him to join a church diery in the Louisiana House of Rep- after having been refused admittance they are also modest and unassuming free heart's only home," where truth and and heliching to make it. At three day and wake it. At three day and wake it. At three days are also modest and unassuming free heart's only home," where truth and East was awake, and concluded be wealth are 1 like order to get to heaven no longer ex-

A MILITARY BUBBLE.

Judge Gregory, mounted a streak of the Augean stable clean. greased lightning yesterday, and rode to Beaver Dam in the twinkling of an eye! And yet, were we to publish so preposterous a statement as fact, we would not miss the truth a hair'sbreadth more than the poet did when he heroised Phil. Sheridan. We SHERIDAN during the late war. We Travels, is without foundation. know he was sent out to "P.vp" those instructions were to put "LEFFLE l'mu" in command of the cavalry corps attached to the Army of the Cumberland. The grizzly old hero of could exterminate 'em with fire. Rossville Gap, whose iron legions over the eavalry to the "famous rider." The consequence was, that in six weeks' time the cavalry of the Cumberland was the most disorderly, disciplineless that will wed his name to infamy so long as the world shall stand. He burned up a small-pox hospital that once upon a time, and did pretty clean picking. If he thirsts for bnrn-

than he came, for those gentlemen

from the army of the Potoniae were slow travelers when their faces were set to the southwest. There was a deal of hard fighting down there, you

THE MEN FOR THE OFFICES. scuffle for nomination with big-bellied, danger.

to find it a dangerous amusement.

loud-swearing, vanity-paffed, shallow-An epoch of war always palms off brained, long-tongued, blatant, bullyome spurious hero upon the muse of ing demagogues. They are men who history, and his name in consequence have no "claims" npon the party. for—the one that is ultimately to bring finds a place in the chronicles of the Your genuine state-men, your heroes nations: while poets and novelists, of the Senate where ideas are as canlacking historical data to work upon, non balls and speech a saber keen, are invent nightical exploits to which they not the ones to button-hole you on murder of Curist on Mount Calvary. marry his name-not dering to use every corner and annoy you with their We have too many religions now - that of any one who has carved out an "claims" upon the party. They are such as they are. There is not one in honorable fame with his sword, know- not the men to travel the length and the whole long catalogue of religious ing that detection of their imposture breadth of the State, like bellowing larity of the former among the rag-tag- beliefs that will stand the crucial test would be curtain—the people catch up bulls of Bashan, proclaiming that they, of the Bible. They are, one and all, the song or story, it becomes popular, and only they, are the chosen vessels has to be used to achieve success at the more or less of the earth earthy. Their and after awhile is accepted as veri- to restore the ancient grandeur and Elder E. T. Meyers, a minister of the Chriss polis; when all or any of these things principles, or doctrines, are the creatable history. Thus base fables, in glory and honor of the party. These occur, we step down and out of the canvass. Ition of men-smart and pions men time, pass curren lfor genuine fact. roaring beggars after office, these polit-Neither our voice, vote or paper can they be-but still men. "Preaching These heroes of the minnesingers and ical lazzaconi, are the very ignorant CHRIST and Him crucified" is an inci- storytellers are lucky dogs, in that and conceited incompetents that brought the party into disgrace afore-The histories of the old world are full time. They are but croaking frogs, of such characters, and, since the col. whose mission it is to sit upon the banks lapse of our own civil war, American of their native ponds, suck in the air, history can parade a right goodly share. swell out their sides, and frighten tim-Notorions among these-indeed his id tadpoles with their noise. These name may safely be placed at the head impudent incompetents must be put of the list-is General Pink. H. Shen- down. We, the people, the rank and IDAN, who has won himself louger and file of the party, must brush them more jingling spurs than any earpet- aside as odious vermin, and call out knight of them all. How? Simply our best and truest men-our men of by wining and diuning into the ears of bram and ability-onr men of stamina a not overly conscientious newspaper and character-our men of genius correspondent a fabulous story of an and patriotism-our Democratic jewels imaginary rido "where danger hung of purest ray serene, and put them in the murky air, and death 'buscaded the crown of American statesmanship, the way." The story was published as whore their radience may enlighten and between ministers of opposing sects on fact in the New York Herald, when it their brilliance guide. Too long have caught the eye of the poet-painter, the we permitted them to rust in obscurity. late Buchanan Read, who at once Too long have we coveed them over eized pen and pencil, wrote one of the with the dust of impudent political admost stirring ballads of the war and venturers, fellows who resemble statespainted a picture that made him yet men about as much as the stripes of a more famous, and Sherndan was the rag-carpet resemble a rainbow. We hero of both. And yet that break- cannot begin the good work of purifyneck ride through the Shenandoah ing the temple of Democracy one day Valley, "on to Winehester town," too soon. It has been used as a stable while the legious of STONEWALL JACK- for jackasses too long already. With on were a-march on every road never the broom of Thos. Jefferson, our occurred. Not a bit of it-not a bit of great Democratie HERCULES-"Let it; no more than our excellent friend, the office seek the man"-let's sweep

BRIC-A-BRAC.

Nouvelle-Orleannaise for Liar-Sheridan, Even Gen. John Pope admits that he cannot hold a candle to Sheridan. Mrs. Woodbull says she loves a liar .-

Sheridan is the sweetheart for her. The story, though plausible, that Gen. chanced to know something about P. II. Sheridan is the author of Gulliver's

Glance at the two sap roots of General Thomas bearing instructions from the Sheridan's genealogical tree, and you War Department to the latter, and will find inscribed thereon the names of Ananias and Saphira.

What a pity the white people of Louisiana are not all sick women and children in a small-pox huspital, so Sheridan stemmed and turned back the tide of John-late of Otterville, Ill., left a son bedisaster to the Federal arms that set hind him when he died last July who in on Chicamanga's fearful field, obeyed knew exactly how to console his young his instructions to the letter, and turned and pretty step-mother. They twain celebrated New Year's Day by getting married.

The Cincinnati Guzette compares Phil. Sheridan to General Jackson There is just about as much resemblance between mob that ever essayed to wear saber the little Liur in Blue and grand Old and earline. Thomas would not stand Hickory, as there is between the illumithat sort of thing, and SHERIDAN was nated narrative of a lightning bug and the hustled back to the eastward faster noonday snn.

The new King of Spain is the identical baby whose arrival at Madrid while the late Pierre Soule, of Louisiana, was the representative of this government near that court, was laid at that gentleman's door, and caused Mrs. S. to express the

One of those sweet romantic experiences

this world is not all a flecting show for But he has performed a couple of man's illusion given, that love has lodgbrilliant deeds since the war-deeds ment here below, and there's truth this side of heaven, now comes to as from Northern Georgia. It appears that a gentleman of Atlanta wandered out into the country to escape che noise and bustle of contained a score or more of helpless the busy town, and commune with nature Indian patients, down with that fright- where brooks babble and fields are a-green ful scourge. And the other day, at at the proper season. Among the birds New Orleans, be caused a subordinate whose gay plumage delights the eye and to enter the legislative halls of Louis- happy songs enchant the ear, he espied iana, while the House was in session, and at once fixed his affections upon a outrage that may be heaped upon them to make for it a readable paper. We and remove therefrom six members, young pig—a tender, milk-white, beautiful whose only offenso was-they were with the owner of the porcine darling, and HARTFORD HERALD. It is for them Democrats. And he did not stop the city gentleman became the possessor there, but he called upon the Presi- of the object of his swift-born admiration. dent to proclaim the white people of The pretty pig was carefully basketed, to that long-suffering and terribly abused the immense disgust and indignation of WHEN Texas doctors disagree, they State "banditti," and give him free its fond mamma, and thus transported sharpen their bowie knives, meander rein to ride them down as he pleases. from sylvan scenes and pastoral disport-We hope that the next time the Presiand folly, of the crowded city. Next morning, ere Aurora's rosy warning had to carve the human anatomy without Sheridan's request. Then we would bade pale Luna to make room for the producing fatal results, they hew away have this military bubble pricked to god of day, the crimson banners of whose like sixty for awhile, and then, covered some purpose. If he hopes to plunder marching glowed redly on the gray eastern with blood and gaping wounds, they the people, he must have forgotten that horizon, the gentleman, who is an early General BUTLER was down that way riser for a denizen of the town, was attracted to his yard-gate by a commotion thereanent. Imagine his astonishment on discovering the mother of his newly-acquired ing and slaying, he will be presty apt treasure endeavoring to make her way into the premises that were the prison grounds of the darling of which she had been despoiled on the preceding afternoon There are hundreds of men in the Her instinct, quickened by mother-love, A ROMANTIC story reaches us from Democratic party of Kentucky who had prompted her to swift and determined Germany of a plucky American girl can fill any public position with credit pursuit. * * It is such sweet and poet-

THE HERALD.

IS PUBLISHED

IN THE TOWN OF HARTFORD, GOINTY, KENTUCKY. -- er -

JOHN P. BARRETT & CO., AT THE PRICE OF LT Two Dollars a Year in Advance. To

Job work of every description done with neatness and dispatch, at city prices. We have a full line of job types, and solicit the patronage of the husiness community.

The postage on every copy of THE HERALD is prepaid at this office.

Our terms of subscription are $2.00 per year, interiably in advance.

Communications in regard to advertising, and job

JNO. P. BARRETT, LOCAL EDITOR.

Sleet vesterday morning.

Prayer meeting to-night.

Good Templars lodge to-morrow night

Friday night.

years, died at Curdsville, on the 3rd inst. The county Assessor begins his listing

Just received, a fine lot of prints, at 8 E. SMALL'S.

skating. Miss Emma Uayues will please accept the thanks of the HERALD "press gang' for her kindly present of Saturday. The child of a colored couple named

Hathaway, in Daviess county, was smothered to death in bed one night last week

leave Owensboro at 10:30 o'clock every ty, and four daughters and one son to marry, all during the same week, recently. Intemperance and exposure caused the

The cold snap of the latter part of last week was a godsend to the ice-harvest-

Nearly all of our lawyers hied them off court is in session.

at daylight Saturday arorning.

and Beaver Dam stage, had both feet se- and instruct each other, while we instruct at Lexington by young Holloway. It will trol the Legislature struck at the very verely frost-bitten during his return trip ed and amused those who came to hear Saturday afternoon.

Saturday, a brakeman on the down train from Louisville, was discovered, when near Muldraugh's Ilill, to be very nearly frozen to death. It took some time and a deal of rubbing to restore the circulation.

ces of our Baptist friends, will be inaugu- about noon, Mrs. Wise, the wife of the rated in the course of three weeks. The resident pastor, Elder Swindler, will conduct the meeting, assisted by Elders Coleman and Peay.

The regular stated meeting of the M. tendance.

The Mite Society met for the first time Wayne Griffiu's. A goodly number of was missing. Presenting his gun at young people attended, and we passed a Chinn, he demanded to know what it was and that she had communicated the menacter and the she had communicated the she very enjoyable evening. Mr. Elijah Wilhams was elected custodian of the mites, oner declared that it was nothing. Mr. ated, by another of the same Irail sister and had the pleasure of pocketing a neat Wise assured him that he would shoot little sum. The society will meet next him if he did not produce whatever it was. Shaw drank freely that when he entered the saloon and saw that when he entered the saloon and saw issued on the birthday of our charming little friend, Miss Lizzie Walker. That usurpations of power that have covered morning a charming little letter and lots from the wrong side of the Ohio. of candy of her own pulling. The letter

TO Whom it May Concern! as well as to the community will be trans-B. A. CENDIFF, Pastor.

Mr. Sam. K. Cox, our worthy county elerk, had a streak of bad luck last week. Two marriage lieenses were returned to EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, him endorsed, "No property found." The In response to interrogatories propounded fact is, he uses the Bolling form. They were never known to stiek. If he will county will get married before the Fourth

Absconded. woman named Turner. Wilson confessed Should the paper enepend publication, from any cause, during the year, we will refund the money due on subscription, or furnish subscribers for the marriage them would not be the money due on subscription and paper of the subscribers for the nucerical terms with any paper of the subscribers for the marriage them would return to fided in his word that he would return to six and was President, but I at same price they may select.

Advertisements of business men are solicited;

and partiesments of business men are solicited; Advertisements of business men are solicited; except those of saloon keepers and dealers in interacting liquors, which we will not admit to our columns under any circumstances.

All communications and contributions for publication must be addressed to the Editor.

Communications in recard to advertising and with Communications in regard to advertising, and job to come to time. Instead of keeping satisfactory to the whole country, proper by setting forth that the utilitary was subscribed to the Publishers.

The Herald Printing company consists of Waltack Greeller, Editor, Ino. P. Barrett Business Manager, and John L. Gase, Foreman of Newpaper and Job Office.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1875.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1875.

held Saturday, but Allen's attorney, E The boys and girls have been enjoying D. Walker, Esq., of our town, obtained a aid in organizing the Legislature, which blashins of fun," for several days past, in change of venue to flurtford, and the ac-

The Louisville packets will bereatter

Mr. Wm. Robertson, of Daviess coun-

death of Andrew Hebner, at Owensboro, Thursday night.

Sim. King, the driver of the Hartford

2. Church, South, will be held next Saturday and Sunday. It is hoped and expected that all the members of the church will be prompt and regular in their at-

January II, 1874.

The first number of THE HERALD WAS night she entertained her little play fellows Grant's administration with infamy; he with a candy pulling, and, as we had also would have been unceremoniously deposed selected the auspicious occasion as the na- from office by the Radical Congress that the submission of love. tal day of our paper, she sent us next upholds Grant in his deviltry. He came

Larceny of a Gan. Mite meeting at Mr. W. C. Chapman's sell a gun of the description of the one stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the Sheridan aor any other General should the stolcu to another party that night or next morning. This fact coming to the Sheridan aor any other General should the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the Sheridan aor any other General should the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. This fact coming to the stolcu to another party, that night or next morning. ears of Samuels & Barber, they swore out usurp the civil nuthority and trample it interference of the military, it should no a warrant against Allen, and he was ar- ignomiously under foot rested during the day Friday by town allel ease to that which has just occurred in Louisiana. It happened in Teunessee marshal Blankenship, of Beaver Dam. in July, 1266. His examining trial before police judge > the custody of the juiler for safe keeping. Why Not?

> fault of bail the accused was remanded to

It does seem to us that a community abounding in literary talent like that of Hartford, could afford a literary society or elub. Cur professional gentlemen are above the average intellectually, many of them are capital debaters, and all of them good writers. We have many ladies who can and do write charmingly. Our young is a saving grace to any people. Ignorance is the hot-bed of crime and immorality .-to Calhoon last week, where the circuit Crime is almost unknown to cultivated intellects, and vice searely ever obtains a Twelve degrees below zero was the hold on an enlightened mind. By for mregister of the thermometer Friday night ing ourselves into a society, to meet one at 12 clock. It registered nine degrees evening in each week, and debate questions, read sketches, coanys, poems, etc., we not only could pass the time pleasantsay you, everybody?

Attempt to Burn out of Jail.

Our county jail at present contains two inmates-Chinn, charged with horsestealing, and Allea, accused of the largeny of a gun. They occupied what used to A protracted meeting under the auspi- be known as the "debtor's room." Sunday, jailer, heard a noise in the room that aroused a suspicion that the prisoners were attempting to escape. She called Our local editor, who is "a limb of the in his hand behind the grate as Mr. Wise to be condemned. The examining trial law," was absent for several days attend- entered the apartment. The jailer asked has taken place, and the facts fully elic ing the Calhoon court, and left his de- him what he was doing there. He replied, Women and wine did the mischief. partment in charge of the "Devil," which "I was measuring to see how tar down Both young men, it would seem, became will account for its unusual excellence this hole goes." "What was you measur- victims to the fascinations and allurement. ing it with?" "A straw," was the reply. A quick glauce around the room showed hun that a small iron rod that had been was missing. Presenting his gun at Friday night at the residence of Mr. W. China saw that the jailer would not bear young Holloway there he went out, and The members and friends of the llart- ises disclosed the fact that the prisoners theme. ford congregation of the Methodist Episs were engaged in burning the casement, copal Church, South, are hereby earnest- with the heated iron, around where the ly requested to meet at the Methodist ends of the bars that secure the window Church in Hartford on next Saturday were fixtened in it. Of course he removed by a process called etcling. Coat over the could be look with a thin layer of wax or hard fallow, siness of importance to said congregation, put to a like use, and lett the prisoners to waz; warm until it flows and let > constitution under foot like Grant; if he etched into the steel. had been guilty of one half the crimes and

and the candy won our affections. We day, he could blush over his rhyming glo-ritication of beastly Phil. Sheridan, If Mr. Buchannn Read were alive toAndy Johnson on Sheridan.

Nashville Special, 7th, ta the N. Y. Herald I have just had a talk with ex-Presi dent Johnson on the Louisiana imbroglio. gals "Hickered" in both instances. Sam. he said: "The action of General Phil. doesn't know what to make of it. The Sheridan in ejecting the Louisiana Legislature is a piece of high handed usurpation and as such it ought and with receive the condemnation of the whole country. get us to print his license blanks we'll It is subserving civil to military power. warrant that half the young people in the it is no unwarrantable and ungenerous ded. This is a matter to be looked upon from our sectional standpoint, but entirely in a national light. There is but one William Wilson, who lived near Ro- grave tact staring us in the face, and that sine, in this county, was indicted by the last grand jury tor adultery with a widow able usurpation of power." The false step taken by President Grant and Sherison presented himself. But Wilson failed lissued a proclamation or paper which was to come to time. Instead of keeping satisfactory to the whole country, properand peace reigned. It was about the removal of Sheridan that General Grant Thursday aight, at Beaver Dam, a and myself had a warm controversy, in shotgun was stolen from the store-room which it was believed by the whole of Samuels & Barber. A man named Allen, who resides in the neighborhood of Sheridan in the face of his then existing of the Legislature, or the Executive Cromwell, and who was in Beaver Dam military reputation. Some of them when the Legislature can not be convened, thought it would never do to take such a to protect the State against domestic vi-

There is a par-"Many of the members of the Legisla-Cooper, of that place, was to have been ture here had absented themselves. Gen Holmes was induced to make application to General Grant for authority to ensed was brought to town late Saturday er whatever to interfere, the State having evening and lodged in jail. He was that to interfere would be a usurpation of brought before Judge Gregory Mondsy, power, placing the military above the but the party to whom he offered to sell civil authorities, and in utter contempt a gun, not being in court, the county at. of the constitution and the laws. The torney asked a postponement for a couple after setted by the state authorities, and of days in order to secure his attendance. there was no more trouble. People in The request was granted, and the exam- the South should act discreetly. ination postponed until to-day. In de ing the Louisiana usurpation Mr. Johnson said that Grant and Sheridan should

her wrongs righted.' SHERIDAN'S FORMER REMOVAL. The following is the dispatch referred o regarding the removal of of Sheridan:

Washington, August 26, 1867. "Major General P. H. Sheridan will at ee turn over his present command to people growing up are studious in their the officer next in rank to himself and, inclinations and habits. Literary culture proceeding without delay to Fort Leavenworth. Kan., will relieve Major General llancock of the command of the Department of the Missouri

> ANDREW JOHNSON. U. S. GRANT, Secretary of War ad interim.'?

The Old Story.

A Lexington correspondent of the Courier-Journal furnishes the following resume ly, but profitably. We would improve of the facts attending the murder of Shaw be seen that it is lut a repetition of the us. Why not organize a Lyceum? What old story, that dissipation-the throwing The people should know and teach their away of good name, reputation, life itself rulers that all their officers were only in their positions to act in accordance with -was at the bottom of it all. Holloway, belonging to a wealthy family, and being tried at Lexington, was, of course, admitted to bail. The event of the last week has been the chooting of Joseph Shaw, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, by a young Holloway, and his subsequent trial and recognition on a bail-bond at $5,000, with Col. ton, of Richmond, und Mr. Bedinger, his brother-in-law, and a Mr. Lyne of Hen- To be had during the next 30 days, in derson, as his sureties, to answer at the Mr. Wise's attention to the noise, and he The tragical death of Shaw, who, notpromptly repaired to the room occupied withstanding his faults, was a general by the two men, gun in hand, and de- favorite, because of his amiable characmanded to know what was up. Both plead ignorance of anything unusual. ter, his good-natured wit and bonhomic, excited a feeling of mingled surprise and regret. It was difficult to identify such a Allen was standing at the window evi- character with the unfortunate netor in deatly on picket duty. Chinn was scated such a scene. On the other hand, Robert Holloway, a young man not yet arrived at the fire and threw something he held at the years of maturity, was not rashly ot a scarlet woman calling herself Frankie Stetson, about whom they had a difficulty months ago, and who appeared in court and swore that Shaw had repeated tooling with, and fished out the missing arming himself with a pistol, returned, rod of iron. An examination of the prem- after which the shooting occurred. But I will not dwell further on this unhappy

Murk Your Tools. by first warming the steel and rubbing on the dream of the liberty they had begun work. When bard, mark your name through the wax ing to attain a little too early in the day. (nitric acid); after a few momouts wash off If Andrew Johnson had trampled the with a soft rag. The letters will be found that the metal enough to neel the war, and wipe it off with a soft rag. The letters will be found

> Happy are the families where the goverument of parents is the reign of affections, and the obedience of the children

The violet grows low and covers itself with its own tears, and of all flowers yields the sweetest tragrance. Such is Lumility.

POPULAR INDIGNATION. Immense Indignation Meeting in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. II .- The indignation eeting held in Cooper Institute to-night to denonnee the outrages against the po litical rights of the people of Louisiana was one of the most remarkable events of the kind ever witnessed in this city, in departure from the organic law upon which our republican government is founded. This is a matter to be a law upon a quarter past seven room and a quarter pa

THE MEETING CALLED TO ORDER. August Belmont called the meeting to order, and proposed Mayor Wickham as

DISPATCH FROM GOV. M'ENERY. Mr. Wiekham took the clinir and said he had just been hunded a dispatch from our suffering brethren in the South, and he asked their attention to it: "Louisiana sends greetings to night. Her people will not be goaded into confliet with the United States troops. The committee is preparing evidence to refute the slamlers of Sheridan. We rely on the moral support of our sister States to restore to us, as American freemen, our right of self government." [Immense ap-

The reading of the dispatch, which was signed by John McEnery, Governor, and other officials was followed by im-

REMARKS OF MR. BRYANT. Wm. Cullea Bryant then addressed the meeting. He said:

The President has no right to intermeddle in the affairs of a State, save in two cases, first to protect the State from have been given but in the way of the withhold his condemnation. It must be rebuked the instant it is perpetrated. The evil must be crushed in its infancy while its bones are yet in the gristle, and before it becomes formidable, as a prec-

These practices, which contemplate the subjection of local polities to the Federal anthorities by the exercise of the military power, must be denounced, must be stopped, must be broken up forever. A list of vice presidents was then read, among whom was Wm. M. Dodge, Whitelaw Reid, Simon Sterne, Peter Cooper Wm. Cullen Bryant, Chineles O'Conner, and about seven others. REMARKS OF MR. EVARTS. Hon Wm. M. Evarts, the next speaker, was received with cheers. e temperate in all they say and do, and the sole intervention of the Federal au the people should look to the North and thority within the province of State au-West to come forward and aid in the respration of the government and constitu- office even it shall not assume excep anal authority. The whole country is when invited by the Legislature of the justly indignant, and Louisiana will have State. And in ao casual condition that the Legislature is not in session can the governor represent the legislature in the demand, but only on the condition that they cannot be convened. Now, then. by the constitution of Louisiana, the Legslature was in session, and the Governor had no power, had no right, to represent that state in a demand for intervention by the Federal authorities. It is only in ia surrection, or that degree of violence which approaches insurrection in effect, that the constitution of the United States has provided for this intervention, and it is only in support of such intervention that the legislation of the Congress of 1795 and 1807 armed the President with the authority. He thought the constitu-tion set forth that, when a riot was imminent, n proclamation should be issued If, when the late election was held, armed lands intimidated voters, then was the time for the President of the United soul of repuldicon form of government

> Mr. Evarts was followed by Hon: James S. Thayer, 11on Wm. E. Dodge. George Ticknor Curtis and Ex-Governor Solomon, after which the meeting adjourned.

GREAT BARGAINS

DRY GOODS. CLOTHING, BOOTS, SHOES,

HATS, CAPS -AND-

NOTIONS. We are determined to close out in order to make room for our Spring Stock.

L. ROSENBERG & BRO. All kinds of Country Produce taken in ex-tange for goods. jan43 4w hange for goods.

ALGNZO TAYLOR, Feshionable Burber and Hair Cutter,

HARTFORD, KY.

Shop, on Market street, two doors north E. SMALLIN

HARTFORD, KY. Dealer in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

TRADE PALACE.

Gents and boys custom made

CLOTHING. A No. I stock of

BOOTS AND SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, FURNISHING GOODS, CLOAKS, BLANKETS, FURS, NOTIONS, &C.

I also keep a large and well selected stock of Ladies' Dress Goods, Sold at New York Prices.

All kinds of COUNTRY PRODUCE Hought at the highest market price.

WM. F. GREGORY.

(County Judge.)

ATTORNEY AT LAW HARTFORD, KY.

Prompt attention given to the collection of laims. Office in the courthouse.

w. N. SWFENEY, Owensboro, Ky. JESSE E. FOGLE, Hartford, Ky.

FOGLE & SWEENEY,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW, HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice their profession in Ohio and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals. Office on Market street, near courthouse.

JOHN C. TOWNSEND.

(Formerly County Judge,) ATTORNEY AT LAW,

HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice in all the courts of Ohio county and the circuit courts of the 5th judicial distriet. Eu-iness solicited and prompt attention

JOHN P. BARRETT, ATTORNEY AT LAW

and Real Estate Agent,

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

Prompt attention given to the collection of Will buy, sell, lease, or rent lands or mineral privileges on reasonable terms. Will write deeds, morlgages, leases, &c., and at-tend to listing and psying taxes on lands be-longing to non-residents,

G. e. WEDDING. MORGAN & WEDDING, ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

HARTFORD, KY. (Office west of conrthouse over Hardwick & Nall's store.
Will practice in inferior and superior courts of this co nmonwenlth Special attention given to cases in bank take depositions correctly-will be ready to oblige all parties at all times. HENRY D. MCHENRY, SAM. E. EtLL.

F. P. Morgan is also examiner, and will

MCHENRY & HILL,

ATTORNEYS& COUNSELLORS AT LAW. HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice in Ohio and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. D. H. FRENCH.

ATTORNEY AT LAW. AND SHAL ESTATE AGENT.

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY. Prompt attention given to the collection of Will practice in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties.
Will buy, sell, lease, or rent real estate or mineral privileges on reasonable terms.

E. C. HURBARD.

WALKER & HUBBARD, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

AND BEAL ESTATE AGENT,

nol la E. P. BARNETT,

PRACTICAL SURVEYOR,

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

HARTFORD, KY. Would respectfully nunonnee to the people f Ohio county that he is prepared, at all times, to do nny kind of surveying, running lines, lnying off lands and lots, &c.. at short notice Terms reasonable and to suit times.

J. F. COLLINS,

DEALER IN GROCERIES, COFECTIONERIES,

> &c., &c. COUNTRY PRODUCE

Bought at

The Highest Market Price. Remember the place, west side public square, poposite the court house, Hartford, Ky. nof Iy.

JOSEPH VAUGHT,

BLACKSMITH,

HARTFORD, KY. All kinds of Blacksmithing done in good style and at the lowest price for each only. HORSE-SHOEING.

ande a specialty. Will shoo all round for $1 25. WM. HARDWICK,

HARDWICK & NALL,

BOOTS, SHOES, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, &c. Which we will sel! low for eash, or exchange for country produce, paping the highest market

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, HATS, CAPS,

Z. WAYNE GRIFFIN.

HARTFORD, KY. Dealer in

Drugs, Medicines and Chemicals, Sino Toilet Soaps, Fancy Hair and Tooth-Brush es, Perfumery and Faney Toilet Articles, Trusses and Shoulder

Gurden Seed.

Puro Wines and Liquors for nucdical purposes. Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Dyc Stuffs, Letter-paper, Pens, Ink, Envelopes, Glass, Putty, Carbon oil, Lamps and Chimneys. Physicians' prescriptions accurately com-

Notice. The Ohio Co. council, P. of 11., will meet a the Coort-house, in Hartford, on the 29th day of January, 1875, at 10 o'clock a.m. All degrates are expected to attend, as there will be important/business to altend to.

J. W. BARNETT.

Sy order of Secretary, pro tem STEPHEN WOODWARH, O. & P. O.

B. P. BERRYMAN,

Fashionable Tailor.

HARTFORD, KY.

Conts. Pants and Vests ent, made and re-paired in the best style at the lowest prices. nol Iy

THE CROW HOUSE, Opposite the Courthouse HARTFORD, EV.

VAUGHT & HUDSON, PROPRIETORS. Comfortable rooms, prompt attention, and low prices. The traveling public are respect-fully invited to give as a share of patronage. Every exertion made to render guests comfort-able.

STAGE LINE. Vanght & Hudson also run stage twice n day between Hartford and Beaver Dam. morning and evening, connecting with all passenger trains on the L. P. & Southwestern rail-lish an art journal, did not prove the inlifec-

JAS. A. THOMAS & CO.

HARTFORD, KY.

Dealers in staplo and fancy DRY GOODS.

Notions, Funcy Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps. A large assertment of these goods kept constantly on hand, and will be sold at the very lowest cash price.

JNO. P. BARRETT & CO., Newspaper. Book,

JOB PRINTING,

HARTFORD, KY. All orders promptly executed. Special at-ention given to orders by mail. Write for a rico list. Address

JOHN P. BARRETT & CO.,

Corner Court Place and Piccadilly street.

Job Printers, Hartford, Ky.

JOHN P. TRACY & SON. UNDERTAKERS,

Manufacturers and dealers in all kinds of wooden coffins, trom the finest rose wood casket to the cheapest pauper coffin.

hand and for sale.

fouerals. Wagons and Buggies, constantly on hand or made to order. Particular attention given to plow stocking.

J. F. YAGER, Sale and Livery Stuble,

HARTFORD, KY. I desire to Inform the citizens of Hartford and vicinity that I am'prepared to firmish Saddle and Harness Stock, Buggiesind conveyances of all kinds in the most reasonable terms. llorses taken to feed or hoard by the day, week or month. A liberal share of patronage solicl-

WM. H. WILLIAMS,

Dealer in DRY COODS.

GROCERIES,

Hardware, Queensware, Hats and Caps,

Boots and Shoes.

Also dealers in

HARTFORD, KY. I will sell very low for eash, or exchange

Leaf Tobacco.

for all kinds of country produce. My motto is "Quick sales and small profits." nol Iy

HOUSEHOLD -AND-

KITCHEN FURNITURE For Sale. I have the following articles for sale which

I will sell low for cash, or on time for note bearing interest and well secured, viz. I fine tin sett, I purlor showel and tongs, I oil cloth for table (5 yards), I large clothes basket, I marble top center table, I tin slop backet, 2 fly brushes, I wash pan, I perper mill, 2 grate fenders, I grate, I lot of window mill, 2 grate fenders, 1 grate, I lot of window blinds, 3 candle sticks, 2 china spitteens, I small garden hoc, I large garden hoo, I garden rake, I coffee pot, a lot of tin plates, pie and cake pans, 1 patent washing machine, I patent churn dasher, I meal seive, I cotton bed cord I pair coal grabs, 3 lard cans, I pair fire ivons, I pair counter scales, 2 barrel of salt, I bunch can to bottom chairs, I thin bucket, I set can bottom chairs, I thing-room chair, 2 shools, 2 fancy parlor screens mantles and grates, and several other articles too minorrous to metain. If these things are not sold at private sale 1 will sell at public nuction on Monday the 1st day of February, 1875.

JOHN P. BARRETT. JOHN P. GARRETT.

L. F. WOERNER,

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

Repairing neatily and promptly done.

REPRESENTATIVE AND CHAMP-TON OF AMERICAN ART TASTE

PROSPECTUS FOR 1875-EIGHTH YEAR.

THE ALDINE THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA.

ISSUED MONTRLY.

MAGNIFICANT CONCEPTION WON-DERFULLY CARRIED OUT.

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. sire.

lish an art journal, did not prove the immuneence of the people of America to the claims of high art. So soon as a preper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, tho public at once rallied with enthusiasm to its sapport, and the result was a great artistic and commercial trimph—THE ALDINE.

The Aldine while Issued with all of the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interests characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature, and a collection of pletures, the rarest collection of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of The Aldine will be most appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may elaim superior chespness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, The Aldine is a unique and a similar class, The Aldine is a unique and original conception—alone and nnapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes, for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides?

The national feature of The Aldine must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While The Aldine is a strictly Amerian lastitution, it does not confine itself to the an institution, it does not confine itself to the reproduction of native art. Its mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative art taste, one that will discriminate on grounds of intrinsio merit. Thus, while pleading before the patrons of The Aldine, as a leading characteristic, the productions of the most noted American artists, attention will always be given to specimens from foreign masters, giving subscribers all the pleasure and instruction obtainable from home or foreign sources.

The artistic illustration of American scenery, riginal with The Aldine is an important feathre, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfactory treatment of details than can be afforded by any inferior of details than can be anorded by any interior page. The indicious interspersion of landscape, marine, figure and animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest, impossible where the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of The Aldine is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only such technical disquisitions as do not interfere with he popular interest of the work.

PREMIUM FOR 1875.

tiful portrait, in oil colors, of the same noble dog whose picture in a former issue attracted so much attention. "Man's Unselfish Friend"

Every subsciber for 1875 will receive a bean-wooden coffins, from the innestrose wood essays to the cheapest pauper coffin.

All kinds of coffin trimmings constantly on hand and for sale.

Witt Talmage tells that his own rewinding dog (the finest in Brooklyn) barks at it. Although so natural, no one who sees this premium chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewinding the same chromo will have the slightest fear of his own rewin being hitten. Besides the chromo every advance subscriber to The Aldine for 1875 is constituted a member and entitled to the privileges of THE ALDINE ART UNION. The Union owns the originals of all The Aldine pictures, which with other paintings and engravings, are to be distributed among the members. To every series of 5,000 anseribers 100 different pieces, valued at over $2,500, are distributed as soon as the series is full, and the awards of each series as made, are to be published in the next succeding Issue of The Aldine. This feature only applies to subscribers who pay for one year in advance. Full particularly ulars in eircular sent on application inclosing a stamp. TERMS: One Subscription, entitling to The Aldine one year, the Chromo, and the Art Union,

Six Dollars per annum, In Advance. (No charge for postage.) Specimen copies of The Aldine, 50 cents The Aldine will hereatter be obtainable only y subscription. There will be no reduced or club rates; cash for subscriptions must be sent the publishers direct or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publisher, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac simile signature of Jas.

SUTTON. President.

Any person wishing to act permanently as a local ennvaser, will receive full and prompt information by applying to THE ALDINE COMPANY, 53 Maiden-Lane, New York.

CANVASSERS WANTED.

Unquestionably the best Sustained Work of the kind in the World. HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

> ILLUSTRATEN. Notices of the Press.

The ever increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adapta-tion to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrstes every month, we must consider it as en-tertainers, of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won no by appeal to stupid pro-ju-dices or depraved tastes.—Roston Globe.

The character which thir Magazine possesses

The character which thir Magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary enture that has kept pace with, if it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with jastifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good, and not evil, all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Esyte

TERMS. Postage Free to all Subscribers in the United Harper's Magazine, one year ...

$1 00 includes prepayment of U. S. postege by the publisher. by the publisher.

Subscriptions to Harper's Magazine, Weekly, and Bazar, be one address for one year, $10 00; or, two of Harper's Periodicals, to one address for one year, $7 00; postage free.

An extra copy of either the Magazine, Weekly, or Bazar, will be supplied gratis for every club of five subscribers at $4 00 each, in one remittance; or six comes for $20 00, without extra copy; nystage free.

THE HERALD.

THE BALLAD OF BREAKNECK. BY MISS M. C. PIEE.

The sun shines ont on the mountain erest: Far down the valley the shadows full; All erimson and gold is the glowing west; And wheeling and sporting the eagles call. The good ship rides with a filing sall: The sailors are calling, "Away I away! We must stem the tide ere the north wind fail; The night and the breeze brook no delay."

The young mate lingers upon the strand Near a dasky maiden with flushing check; In his broad brown palms he holds ber hund And eager and low are the words they speak Weep not, Nekama; I shall relure;
Wait for me on the mountain side;
When the woods in their antumn glory burn,
I shall cume again to claim my bride."

Slowly the Indian lifts her head; Dry is her cheek, clear her eye,
"Nekama will wail as thon hast said;
The son of the pale face cannot lie. Seeking the sails on the stream below, Under the shade of the tall pine tree, When the becches are gold and the snmachs glew, From the monntain-top I shall watch for

The sailors are calling; the broad soils flap; Erom his neck Direk looses his great gold chain, Flings the gleaming links in Neksma's lap,

Then springs to the shallop's stern again. The stont ash bends to the rowers' will Till the small boat reaches the vessel's side When he thrus to Nekama, waiting still, Sad, hut calm in her savage pride. Sails the ship under high Cro' Nest,

Wearing and tacking in Martyr's Reach, hlle Direk looks back with a man's nare And Neksma lingers upon the beach.

Fade the sails to a vagne white speek;

Loom the mountains hazy and tsil; Direk watches still from the vessel's deck, And the girl moves not, though the night dews fall.

A year has passed, and upon the hills Searlet and russet have faded to brown; Ko sound is heard but the flowing rills; The summer's voices are hushed and gone.
The late sad crow an a bare beech top
Caws and swings in nu antumn wind; The dead leaves fall and the acorn's drop Breaks the stillness and scares the bind

Wrapped in her blanket Nekama stands, Scans the horizon with eager eye.

Late he lingers. She clasps her hands, And a sadness dims ber wide dark eye. Is lt a mist o'er the distant shore?

Look how the maiden's dusky face Glows and brightens! A moment more, And the white speek changes, and grows

"He comes! be comes?" From the wigwams near

Gather the braves and squaws again; The men are decked with arrow and spear, And the women of wampum and feathers vain. Fleeked is the river with light cances, Laden with gifts fur the welcome guest; The spoils of the chare let him freely choose; Close to the ship are the frail burks pressed

Brown and still as a bronze relief, Shylv Nekama keeps her place Behind ber father, the Mohawk chief, Who, plumed and tall, with a painted face, Grasping a spear in his nervous hand, Looking in vain one face to see, Turns and atters his proud demand;
"Direk Brandsen comes nut: where linger

"Direk stays in Holland." the sailors say: "He has wedded a dame of wealth and state; He sails no more for many a dny— God send us all like happy fntel" Dark grows the brow of the angered sire; Can the white man lie like a linron knave he eyes of the maiden burn like fire, But her mien is stendy, her words are brave.

From her besom she drags the grent gold chain Dashed at the captuin's feet it lies:
"Take back to the traitor his gift again; Nekama has learned how a pale face lies! Proudly she steps to her light canoe; Bends her haddle at every stroke; The graceful bank o'er the waters flew wist they a woman's heart had broke

Up the monntain Nekama bles: Stands in the pine-tree's shade again: Scans the scene with her wide wild eyes; The dark cloud crowd round the mountains peak: Caws the crow on the bonghs o'er head;". The great limbs hend, and the branches creak "Ah, why do I live? He is false!" she said. A shrick is beard through the gathering storn

A rushing figure darkens the air; Ont from the cliff springs a slender form, And a maiden's grief lies buried there. Towers the grey crag frim and high; Drips the blood trom its rugged side; Lond and shrill is the eagle's call

O'er the matteriag wash of the angry tide ! But the Storm King nods to old Cro' Nest, Where the pine-trees wave the haarse

Though the Mohawk sleeps 'neath that rocky While the leaves on his ruined astless fall. To-day on the Hudson sailing by, Under the shadow of Breakneck Hill, We tell the legend, and heave a sigh, Where Nckama's memory lingers still.

AGRICULTURAL.

The Debit and Credit Account.

No one can pursue a business intelligently and profitably without carefully kept debit and credit accounts. With these accounts carefully kept, the farmers can by yearly ballances see just what he If the account is too heavy on the debit side, the tarmer can see just where he is tending, and will by this information be intluened to take a new track, and recover himself before he bas gone too far.

Now, January is here, and we advise all who have not done so before to open nn account with the tarm and its operations. Here are the items that

CHARGED AGAINST THE FARM. Interest on the capital invested, at the usual rate, 10 per ceut.

The taxes. The depreciation in value from exhaus-

The interest on the capital invested in implements, farm machinery and the etock employed to work the farm. The depreciations in value of these from use. This item can be estimated by the average length of time these articles last by good usage. The value of manures and seeds, and of the materials for repairs and improve-The interest on these until returns are had on their use. The cost of all labor, both of the owner and his hired help, at the rate he pays for help.

The actual cost of board for his kired

All female labor employed in the production of butter, cheese, etc. CREDIT THE PAICS WITH:

All its products, both that sold and that consumed by the tamily. The enhanced market value of the selves

Permanent improvements.

The rent of the dwelling-house, We can not too strongly urge the im- 364, and the total number organized up portatee of a knowledge of just how our to that time was 21,572. The Bultetin affairs are going. If the tacts, which also gives the times of meetings of State and to begin earnest inquiry as to what third Tuesday in February; Georgia, to do. If it should be found by comparthird Wednesday in January; Illinois, sive corn-growing was the cause of our ond Tuesday in December, Maine, second trouble, we should take a new track. If Tuesday in December, Maryland, lirst it should prove to be an attempt to grow theat, or any other special crop that caused the failure, we should cast about third Tuesday in January; Nebraska, about our husiness, and upon kindred top- March; South Carolina, third Wednesday ics, lies at the bottom of success. Success was never secured without it, except day in February; Virginia second the rare cases of force of circumstances. Wednesday in January; W. Virginia, We must, above all, have reliable infor-econd Thursday in Jan.; Wis., Jan. 5. We must, above all, have reliable information about our business allairs, and how can we have it, except we carefully Grange put a rod in pickle for the mencollate it, and compare it, and weigh it? Open your accounts on the 1st of January, keep the items. It will prompt you to look carefully noter the little details, and save much that is now wasted.

- Indiana Farmer. A New Horse Disease.

nmong horses near Harrodsburg, Ky.

R. E. Coleman's of Fairview Stock-farm; fact, the farmers' wives and daughters and both these gentlemen lost several valido all kinds of work, except to plow, and fall, before any successful remedy was the men have so much to say that when found. The disease appears to be a kind they get done there is no time for us, and distemper is much more virulent and fatal than the old, well-known distemper that effects all young horses, and is also considered much more troublesome than epizootic, although not so contagious.

The journals inimical to the Patrons of Husbandry let no chances pass to advertise the short-comings of an individual or officer here and there. The wonder Mr. A. S. McCann has, within the last or officer here and there. The wonder Mr. A. S. McCann has, within the last really is that so an extensive organization lew weeks, lost several fine horses from should have escaped with so little of t, and now has others under treatment. The only remedy yet tried by these gentlemen which appears to be followed by any beneficial results is a very strong croton oil blister applied to the throat, which, in most cases, has been attended with speedy relief and ultimate cure. The first symptoms of the disease, as Mr. MeCann states, is the horse's manifest desire for water and inability to swallow. Said he: "I observed a horse of mine standing in a branch for some time, frequently parting his mouth to the water, but never swallowing any. This going to the branch and trying to drink was repeated for several days before I noticed a swelling in the throat, when I immediately began the blister treatment, and in twenty-tour hours the horse was able to rink, and is now nearly well.' The disease differs from ordinary disemper in several respects, and is no dis riminator in ages, as it attacks young horses or colts as well as the old work-horses or brood-mares. It has not made much progress in this county as yet, but ppears to be slowly progressing through the northern portion

Treatment of Winter Apples. When the apples are put away in the ellar, many think the work is done, except bringing them out ngain to eat; but it is a missake. They should be careful-ly overhauled every two weeks, the and hostess that offer them. These are usually quite ripe and good. All varieties that have a tendency to shrivel, when in barrels or boxes, should be laid on the you moan and sigh?"

"What is the matter, Shall? Why to barrels or boxes, should be laid on the you moan and sigh?"

"What is the matter, Shall? Why to you moan and sigh?"

"What is the matter, Shall? Why to you moan and sigh?"

"What is the matter, Shall? Why to you moan and sigh?"

"What is the matter, Shall? Why to you moan and sigh?" ground in the cellnr on some clean straw' or a little dry lime strewn upon the ground will prevent their getting anything of an earthy smell. Many varieties, if not all, are ripened up quickly by bring. The Shell sighed again, and the Fire ng into a warm room a few days before nceded. With all the destruction of the orer, I do hope the time is not far distant when a dish of nice apples will ever be | Shell, drennily. went .- | Rural World.

consult only in a partial degree the wish-es or necessities of the farmer in the matter of political contests, but, thanks to the Eve?" asked the Fire, sleepily, for it was grange movement, a better day has dozing again.
dawned, as will be seen by the following "The Wind told me so," sighed the which we corv from a recent issue of the Shell, and the Fire turned gray and went State Central Committee, believing it to lt sighed so mournfully that the Wind be composed of gentlemen anxious to do heard it and stole down the chimney, what is best for the people of the State generally, and not unmindful of the innatorial convention is well taken. It is tired child. a pity to keep the candidates in agony for "Why are you sad, pretty Shell?" asked quite so long a time; but the gravest objection is that in May the farmers will be "I was lonely," answered the more busy than in the previous months, and can not tell me of the things I love tending the convention. We think it will But I not sad now, dear Wind, for you be admitted that the farmers have an in- are here to comfort me. Tell me one terest in the next Gubernatorial nomination, and will take an active part in it. If any one is foolish enough not to believe it, he will have his eyes opened about the time the convention meets."-[Farmer's Home Journal.

THE GRANGERS.

Items Gathered from Various Sources, that are of Interest to the Farmer-Brotherhood.

A "Grange Land and Immigration Company" has commenced operation in Arkansas.

The directors of the grange warehouse the flowers goodnight, and peeped at the at Delavan, Wis, announce the reports of dear little birds asleep in their nests, and extravngance in its management and mis-appropriation of funds a malicious slauder. After awhile I waked. It seemed that It was shown at the Iowa State Grange I heard once more the song of the morn-that there were now 2,000 Grangers in ing stars. You have seen the sun coming that State, an increase over last year of up from behind the sea, with his flaming 162, and that 109 smaller Granges bave banners and quivering beams of light, but een consolidated with others.

ago. Now there are more than 21,000 angels down from heaven, and they sang Granges, with a membership of 1,300,000. together till all the land was tilled with Cherokee County Council, Texas, urges melody, and the glorious harmony rose to the very stars. Oh! it was like that Patrons everywhere in the cotton-growing mighty song that rose when the earth States to ascertain as soon as the ginning season is over, how much cotton has been put up at each gin, and report the statisties to the National Grange, in order to just it out of the power of speculators to control the price of cotton to suit them-

The Monthly Bulletin of the National Grange, for Pecember 1, says that the in-crosse of new granges for November was will be brought out in these accounts granges yet to be held, as follows: Arkan the morning sun, whispering gently: each year, show that we are out the form was, fourth We bresday in January Color "Peaceon earth, good will towards me grade, we shall be prompt to call a hale, ado, second Tuesday in January; Kausas, ing notes with our neighbors that excluseeond Tuesday in December; lowa, seeto see just what our farms, and our loca- third Tuesday in December; New Hamptions to markets, require that we should shire, December 15, New Jersey, January 19; New York second Tuesday in Jan-Friends, we repeat again what we have uary; North Carolina, third Wednesday often said in the Farmer: information in February. Ohio, second Tuesday some of whom are not slow to urge the women to more netive participation in grange work-and here is one of her ents:

"There has been a great deal said in the grange about women not doing their part in working or talking. As for work, the women do more than the men, for at home they have the work to do in the honse, A correspondent of the Farmers' Home and a large share of the men's work to Journal writes thus of a new disease do, such as planting corn and setting out mong horses near Harrodsburg, Ky.

The first cases that occurred in Mercer den, I am sure they have a walk or a gnrounty were at Mr. T. C. Coleman's, and and are laughed at about their work. In uable animals during the summer and they can't hold the plow! As to talking,

A lndy of Walnut Creek (Kansas)

defalcation of the State treasurer, Quisenbury, of Missouri, the Executive Commit-tee, which has lately closed its session, has deposed the defaulting officer; has terms they bave dictated to Quisenbury will leave him penniless. The chairman of the committee States that during the manufacturers for a great quantity of farming machines and implements at whole-Patrons next spring.—| Western Rural.

THE WIND'S WHISPER.

BY A. D. H.

washed off nicely and the decayed speeks the chimney. Fortunately, there was no listener but the hig pink Shell that lny on ably with the good judgment of the host the henrin. The Shell listened, and then the mixture of egg-nog and wine bad so

opened another red eve, saving

"Tell me about it. "You never saw the sea," said the hell, drenmily. "You do not know how a part of the entertainment of the long the white waves Jash against the rocks, evenings of winter; a thing we have a faint nor how the wind can how over the recollection of in years gone by, but so waters. You cannot think how grane long ago that we almost forget how it and awful, and yet how beautiful, is the sea. The last time I saw it the waves were half asleep and the moonleame Hitherto it has been the custom to danced among the ripples. Ah! it was "How did you know it was Christmas Lexington Daily Press: "We have no quite to sleep. The Shell felt lonely, and disposition to find fault with the (Ky.) wished itself back by the dear old sea. think the objection of the Courier-Journal to the time set for the calling of the Guber- and the poor, lonely Shell sobbed like a your pretty stories, as you used to do among the rocks by the sen.

The Wind hummed a little song, and kissed the shell again before it commenced "Do you know that to-night is Christ-mas Eve? I remember the first Christmas Eve; it happened a long, long time ago. 'Where was it?' In a far off land, one that you never saw; it is far on the other side of the sea you love; it is a beautitul land, I think, and I have heard men say that the dear All-Father loved it well. 'Do I think so?' Yes, I do, for the hills and valleys of that country are and see for yourself. what was never seen elsewhere. Let me tell you what it was. I had kissed all you never saw such a sight as I did that In May, 1866, the first Grange was or- night; for the Angel of the Lord came ganized in Washington city. The next down, and the glory of God lighted up was that at St. Paul, Minnesota, cix years the land. Then there came a throng of was pure and fresh, when all things sang praise to Him that made them.

"Sing you the song of the angels?" "I ean not, dear Shell; only God's angels can sing it, but I enight their words and remembered them:"

"Glory to find in the highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men." Once more the Wind kissed the Shell and then source upward into the gray dawn of a Christmas morning, caroling "Glory to God in the highest." Through the window crept the rays of "Peace on earth, good will towards men."

HALCYON HOURS.

There was no fleek in all the blue Of that pure sky we sat beneath, And, wave by wave, the waters drew,

Or seemed to draw, a peaceful hieath; blessed calm was on the shore, A reseate glow upon the sea, The trouble of the world was e'er, And life's unrest had ceased to be,

The anguish of the tortured breast, The latter pangs of doubt and four, hero were but phantoms of unrest, That made the sunshine triply dear: he gleaming lids of tear-bright eyes There were no langer tears to fill; Sorrow was lost in glad surprise-lt was not sadness made us still.

The life of that one hour to live,
That one to hold, the rest to loose
We were content, though clouds might give The future all its rainbow hues; A tender joy was all our uwn, Naught else had in it a place or part-ove touched to its divinest tone The chords of rapture in the heart.

And when the hard awakening came. The dream had glorified the sleep; Our lives are brighter for the finne That, incense fed, our memories keep; he angels of the hours we knew For ever radient we hehold, As those the monkish painters drew Smile out of solid heavens of gold.

The Style at Washington Weddings.

The English fashion has become uniersal in Washington in conducting wedfound. The disease appears to be a sind of distemper, which first effects the horse's we have to write a little pitiful thing and ushers take their places. As these called an eseay, and which they often ask Groomsmen are done away time, progresses into the lungs, when it is to see, and then they will put it in their the supply of suitable and available young then considered as past all cure. This coat pocket and lose it, if they can, for men would be exhausted if eight more the supply of suitable and nvailable young the effect around the chancel is finer, if the girls' pretty dresses are not marred by the intermingling of black coats. Gentlemen ought to rejoice that they do not have to go through the trying ordea! of kneeling around a chancel in full view fraudulent endeavor. In relation to the of hundreds of eager, curious eyes behind them; girls who attend a wedding just for the sake of scenic effect. The lloating drapery of the bridesmaids appears to even greater advantage when the taken mortages upon everything he has fair wearers kneel in graceful postures, got, and claim that they will eventually but the men look ridiculous with their recover all the money which had gone coat tails touching the steps, and the into his hamls—about $20,000. There soles of their boots turned upwards. At will be no criminal prosecution, but the a glance the observers can easily tell if those boots are old or new, and the number worn. So groomsmen are things of the past, and the best man has only to week they have contracted with Eastern stand by the groom until he receives the bride. The usbers, after seating the guests, walk up the aisles of which they have charge, after the bridal party enter, and take side seats.

A Minister Drunk at the Commun-ion Table.

Cincinnati Special, 25th, to Chicago Tribune. The Fire was talking in its sleep. Do you know how that could be? Listen, don't you hear the taint little crackle, that delicate snap under the big log? But this s an old-fashioned tire-place, where they The rector of this church, the Rev. C. D. bile the great logs on one another, and Davidson, died recently, and his place has then the blaze goes leaping and roaring up the chimney, carrying all the heat with it, 'tis true. But that has nothing to do with my story. to do with my story.

If the Fire hadn't been asleep, it would egg-nog before going to the church; and tornial services decently, but by the time "oft" and wandered sadly. He rambled you moan and sigh?"

"Ah," said the Shell, "you were talkthe man was drunk. At last, when the ing of the merry Christmas Eve, and it thing became unbearable, the Wardens

> The violet grows low and covers itself with its own tears, and of all !lowers rields the sweetest fragrance. Such is

ALONZO TAYLOR,

Fushionable Barber and Hair Cutter, HARTFORD, KY.

Shop, on Market street, two doors north on the Crow llouse. not if

L. J. LYON.

Dealer in Groceries and Confectioncries.

HARTFORD, KY. Reeps constantly on hand a large assertment GROCERIES, COFECTIONERIES of all kinds of Groceries and Confectioneries, which he will sell low for cash, or exchange for all kinds of COUNTRY PRODUCE. I will also pay the highest each price for hides, sheep pelts, eggs, hutter, bacon, potatoes,

GEO, KLEIN & BRO.

HARTFORD, KY.

Dealers in bouse furnishing good, for general itchen and table use.

Wel keep constantly on hand, the celebrated Arizona Cooking Stove, Seven sizes for either coal or wood. House-

TINWARE. All kinds of tlnware made and repaired on

E. SMALL'S

TRADE PALACE,

HARTFORD, KY. Dealer in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Gents and boys custom made

CLOTHING. A No. 1 stock of LOOTS AND SHOES, HATS AND PAPS.

FURNISHING GOODS, CLOAKS, BLANKETS, FURS, NOTIONS, &C. I also keep a large and well selected stock of

All kinds of COUNTRY PRODUCE Bought at the highest market price.

Ladies' Dress Goods,

Sold at New York Prices.

WM. F. GREGORY.

(County Judge.)

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

HARTFORD, KY.

JESSE E. FOGLE. W. N. SWEENRY.

Prompt atlention given to the collection of aims. Office in the courthonse.

FOGLE & SWEENEY,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW, HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice their profession in Ohio and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appenls. Office on Market street, near courtbonse.

JOHN C. TOWNSEND.

(Formerly County Judge,)

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice in all the courts of Ohio county and the circuit contts of the 5th judicial district. Bu-iness solicited and prumpt attention

JOHN P. BARRETT.

ATTORNEY TAT LAW, and Real Estate Agent.

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

Prompt attention given to the collection of Will buy, sell, lease, or rent lands or mineral privileges on reasonable terms. Will write deeds, mortgages, feases, &c., and attend to listing and paying taxes on lands helonging to non-residents.

G. C. WEDDING. MORGAN'& WEDDING, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

HARTFORD, KY. (Office west of courthonse over Hardwick & Nall's store.
Will practice in inferior and superior courts of this commonwealth Special attention given to cases in bank

F. P. Morgan is also examiner, and will take depositions correctly-will be ready to oblige all parties at all times.

MENRY D. MCHENRY, , SAM. E. HILL. MCHENRY & HILL,

ATTORNEYS& COUNSELLORS AT LAW. HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice in Obio and adjoining counties, and in the Court of Appeals of Kentneky, nol ly. D.H. FRENCH,

ATTORNEY AT LAW. AND ERAL ESTATE AGENT. HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

Prompt attention given to the collection of Will practice in all the courts of Obie and djoining counties.
Will buy, sell, lease, or rent real estate or Will buy, sell, loase, or reasonable terms.
nol ly

R. C. HUSSARD. WALKER & HUBBARD,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

AND REAL FOTATE AGENT.

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

nol la E. P. BARNETT,

PRACTICAL SURVEYOR,

HARTFORD, KY. Would respectfully announce to the people of Ohio county that he is prepared, at all times, to do any kind of surveying, running lines, laying off lands and lots, &c., at short notice Terms ressonable and to suit times.

J. F. COLLINS

nol 2m

DEALER IN

&c., &c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

Boughtat

The Highest Market Price. Remember the place, west side public square opposite the court house, Hartford, Ky. nol 1y.

JOSEPH VAUGHT,

BLACKSMITH,

HARTFORD, KY.

All kinds of Blacksmithing done in good style and at the lowest price for each only. HORSE-SHOEING.

made a specialty. Will shoe all rennd for $1 25.

WM. HARDWICK. A. T. MALL. HARDWICK & NALL,

DEALERS IN

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, HATS, CAPS, BOOTS, SHOES, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, &c. Which we will sell low for cash, or exchange for country produce, paping the highest market KITCHEN FURNITURE

Z. WAYNE GRIFFIN,

HARTFORD, KY. Dealer in

Drugs, Medicines and Chemicals, Fine Toilet Sosps, Fancy Hsir and Tooth-Brush es, Perfumery and Fancy Toilet Articles, Trusses and Shonlder

Garden Seed. Pure Wines and Liquors for medical parposes

Notice.

B. P. BERRYMAN.

Fashionable Tailor,

HARTFORD, KY.

Coats, Punts and Vests cut, made and re-paired in the heat style at the lowest prices.

THE CROW HOUSE,

Opposite the Conrthonse

HARTFORD, KY.

VAUGHT & HUDSON, PROPRIETORS.

Comfortable rooms, prompt attention, and low prices. The traveling public are respectfully invited to give as a share of patronage. Every exertion made to render guests comfortable.

STAGE LINE.

Vanght & Hudson also run a stage twice a day between Hartford and Beaver Dam, morning and evening, connecting with all passon-ger trains on the L. P. & Southwestern rail-road. Passengers set down wherever they de-

JAS. A. THOMAS & CO.

HARTFORD, KY.

Dealers in staple and fancy

DRY GOODS.

J. P. BARRETT, J. L. CASE, W. GRUELLE.

JNO. P. BARRETT & CO.,

Newspaper. Book,

JOB PRINTING.

Corner Court Place and Plecadilly street,

HARTFORD, KY.

All orders promptly executed. Special at-

JOHN P. TRACY & SON.

UNDERTAKERS,

Wagons and Euggies,

constantly on hand or made to order. Partic

J. F. VAGER,

Sale and Livery Stable,

HARTFORD, KY.

I desira to inform the citizens of Hartford and vicinity that I am prepared to furnish Sad-die and Harness Stock, Buggies and conveyan-ces of all kinds on the must reasonable terms. Horses taken to feed or hoard by the day, week or month. A liberal share of patronago solicited.

WM. H. WILLIAMS,

Dealer in

DRY GOODS,

GROCERIES,

Hats and Caps,

Also dealers in

Leaf Tobacco,

HARTFORD, KY.

I will sell very low for cash, or exchange for all kinds of country produce. My motio is "Quick sales and small profits." nol ly

HOUSEHOLD

-AND-

For Sale.

I have the following articles for sale which small gurden hoe, I large garden hoe, I gurden rake, I coffee pot, a lot of tin plates, pie and enke puns, I patent washing machine, I patent

Boots and Shoes.

Hardware, Queensware,

lar attention given to plow stocking.

nol ly

Address JOHN P. BARRETT & CO.,

Joh Printers, Hartford, Ky.

GEO. A. PLATT.

By order of

nolly

JAS. A. THOMAS.

nolly

The Ohio Co. conneil, P. of H., will meet at the Court-house, in Hartford, on the 29th day of January, 1875, at 10 o'clock a.m. All delegates are expected to attend, as there will ha important business to attend to,

J. W. BARNETT,

Sy order of Secretary, pro ten STEPHEN, WOOD WARD, O. & P.O.

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

Repairing neatly and promptly done. REPRESENTATIVE AND CHAMP-

L. F. WOERNER.

ION OF AMERICAN ART TASTE

PROSPECTUS FOR 1875-BIGHTH YEAR.

THE ALDINE THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA,

MAGNIFICANT CONCEPTION WOX-DERFULLY CARRIED OUT.

ISSUED MONTELY.

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists has always been recognised, and many attempts have been made to meet the went The successive failures which have so invariably followed each attempt in this country to astablish an art journal, did not prove the indiffec-

followed each attempt in this country to astablish an art journal, did not prova the indifference of the people of America to the claims of high art. So soon as a preper appreciation of the wont and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once railied with enthusiasm to its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph—THE ALDINE.

The Aldine while issued with all of the regularity, has none of the temporary or simely interests characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an alegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature, and a cottection of pictures, the rarest collection of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a frosh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of The Aldina will be most appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, The Aldine is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely withent competition in price or obaracter. The possessor of a completa volume cunnot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes, for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides!

The national feature of The Aldine must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While The Aldine is a strictly Ameri-Notions, Fancy Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hints and Caps. A large assortment of these goods kept constantly un hand, and will be sold at the very lowest cash price.

taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmo-politan. Whila The Aldine is a strictly Amari-ean institution, it does not confine itself to the ean institution, it does not confine itself to the reproduction of native art. Its mission is to caltivate a broad and appreciative art taste, one that will discriminate on grounds of intrinsic merit. Thus, while pleading before the patrone of The Aldine, as a leading characteristic, the productions of the most noted American artists, attention will always be given to specimans from foreign masters, giving enheribers all tha pleasare and instruction obtainable from heme or foreign sources.

pleasure and instruction obtainable from heme or foroign sources.

The artistic illustration of American scenery, eriginal with The Aldine is an important feature, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfactory treatment of details than can be afforded by any inferior page. The judicious interspersion of landscape, marine, figure and animal subjects, sustain an unahated interest, impossible where the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of Tha Aldine is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only such technical disquisilions as do not interfere with the popular interest of the work.

PREMIUM FOR 1875.

Every subsciber for 1875 will receive a hean-tiful portrait, in oil colors, of the sama able dog whose picture in a former issue attracted so

"Man's Unselfish Friend"

UNDERTAKERS,

IIARTFORD, KY.

Mannfacturers and dealers in all kinds of wooden coffins, 'rom the finest rore wood easket to the cheapest pawer coffin.

Zall kinds of coffin trimmings constantly on hand and for sale.

Keep a fine hearse always ready to attend funerals.

Sall in the constant of the cons

to The Aldine for 1875 is constituted a member and entitled to the privileges of THE ALDINE ART UNION. The Union owns the originals of all The Al-dine pictures, which with uther paintings and engravings, are to be distributed among the members. To every series of 5,000 subscribers 100 different pieces, valued at over $2,500, are distributed as soon as the series is full, and the awards of each series as made, are to be published in the next succeding issue of The Aldina. This feature only applies to asharitants dina. This feature only applies to subscribere who pay for one year in auvance. Full partic-

TERMS: One Subscription, entitling to The Aldina ena year, the Chromo, and the nlars in eircular sent en application inclusing a

Art Uniun, Six Dollars per annum, In Advance.

(No charge for postage.) Specimen copies of The Aldine, 50 cents The Aldine will hercalter be obtainable only y subscription. There will be no reduced or club rates; cash for subscriptions must be sent the publishers direct or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the pub-lisher, except in cases where the certificate le given, bearing the fac-simile signature of Jas. Syrrox, President.

CANVASSERS WANTED. Any person wishing to act permanently as a conl canvasser, will receive full and prempt in-

Unquestionably the best Sustained Work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE. ILLUSTRATED.

The ever increasing circulation of this ex-cellent monthly proves its continued adapta-tion to popular desires and needs. Indeed, whon we think Into how many homes it pene-trates every month, we must consider it as an-tertalners, of the public mind, for its vast popu-larity has been won no by appeal to stupid pre-ju-dices or deprayed tastes.—Boston Globs.

The character which thir Magasina possesses

The character which thir Megasina possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary culture that, has kept pace with, if it has not led the times, should cause Itaconductors to regard it with instifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim apon the public gratitude. The Magasine has done good, and not evil, all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle

TERMS. Postage Free to all Subscribers in the United

An extra copy of either the Magazine, Week-ly, or Bazar, will be supplied gratis for every cluh of five subscribers at $4.00 each, in one

charn dasher, I meal seive, I cotton hed cord
I pair coal grahs, 3 lard cans. I pair fire irons,
I pnir counter scales, ½ bs.rel of salt, 1 bnnch
cane to bottom chairs, I tin hucket, I sot cane
hottom chairs, I dining-room chair, 2 stools, remittance; ar slx comes for $20 00, without extra copy: postage free. Back numbers can be supplied at any time.

Letter-paper, Pens, Ink, Envelopes, Glass, Putty, Carbon oil, Lamps and Chimneys.

Physicians' prescriptions accurately compounded.

Physicians' prescriptions accurately compounded.

A complete set of of Harper's Magasine, now comprissing 49 Volumes, in neat cloth hinding, will be sent by axpress, freight at expense of purchaser, for 2.25 pay volume. Single volumes, by mail, postpaid, 33 00. Cloth cases, for binding, 58 cents, by mail, postpaid.

A complete set of of Harper's Magasine, now comprissing 49 Volumes, in neat cloth hinding, will be sent by axpress, freight at expense of purchaser, for 2.25 pay volume. Single volumes, by mail, postpaid, 33 00. Cloth cases, for binding, 58 cents, by mail, postpaid.

Address HARPER & BOTHERS, New Xork.

ormation by applying to THE ALDINE COMPANY, 58 Maiden-Lana, New York.

Notices of the Press.